New Equipment At Record Plant; New Faces In This Issue

SEE PHOTOS PAGE 9

Northern San Mateo County's leading newspaper added another new first this week with installation of a Ludlow type-casting machine and Elrod strip-caster.
The mechanical team makes possible use of a myriad of new type faces which can be seen in this issue of THE RECORD.
In conjunction with use of these bright new type faces, THE RECORD is inaugurating this week nearly a dozen new regular features and columns.

Commenting on the new equipment, Harold P. Bradshaw, publisher and editor, said, "When typefaces have lost their interest and vigor, and are on the way down the style ladder, their consistent replacement with fresh modern faces, better keyed to today's reading and advertising needs, is a practice paying generous dividends for both the reader and advertiser."

He stated that the new features and columns will supplement an already vast reader interest (THE RECORD has a total paid circulation of 3000, largest for any weekly newspaper in San Mateo county.) Among the editorial innovations appearing this week are: Community calendar, listing important social and club dates; television column by staff writer Gloria Lorenzo; Argus of Colma school, a newsy column by journalism students; county news briefs, Records from the Past, a look at what went on here five, 15 and 25 years ago; regular weekly feature on editorial page; Cooking Foods Men/Like, by food expert Jack King; and a sports column on local personalities and happenings.

The Record On Sale At Stands

Non-subscribers to THE RECORD, Northern San Mateo County's Leading Newspaper, can buy copies weekly at stands located throughout the area.

Newstands may be found at the following locations: Hilltop Market, 6315 Mission street; McGraw's Pharmacy, 6300 Mission street; Anchor Drug Co., Mission street, Colma; Daily City Cigar Store, 6264 Mission; Bank of America, Mission and San Jose avenue; King's Market, Broadmoor shopping center; Town & Country Food Center, Westlake.

ED DENNIS JR., teen-age son of the Daly City councilman, is a pretty fast youngster with the repertoire.

The other day Mayor JOE VERDUCCI phoned Ed Jr., and his son answered.

"My dad isn't here," Ed Jr. said. "Can I give him a message?" Verducci replied, "No, nothing important. I was just going over to San Quentin and wanted to talk to him before I left."

"I knew they were talking about recall but I didn't know they'd got you already," was young Ed's retort.

Lagomarsino Charges 5 Mo. Delay

Following a heated session with the planning commission and Hillside Homeowner Improvement association members, Builder Ricco Lagomarsino told the city council Monday night that "Everything I do they say is wrong."

"A man can be wrong 90 per cent of the time but not all the time," Lagomarsino complained.

Lagomarsino claimed that the planning commission had held up his subdivision plans in southern Daly City for more than five months.

Earlier Monday evening Lagomarsino appeared before the planners, as did several improvement group members on hand to protest the builder's re-subdivision proposal.

Lagomarsino seeks commission approval to re-subdivide two blocks directly east of Atlanta street, bounded by Chester and Hoffman streets.

Residents of the area charge that under Lagomarsino's plan the houses would be constructed so that back yards would be in direct view of the present homeowners. They also said the development would create drainage problems.

Lagomarsino declared he would construct fences in the back yards of his homes so that they would be blocked from view of present residents. He also pointed out that he would install whatever drainage facilities deemed necessary by the city engineer.

Planning commissioners held the matter up until March 8 so they could visit the scene of the proposed development.

Lagomarsino asked councilmen after the planning session was over, "What does a man have to do to develop his own property?"

The council said they would investigate the builder's charge that planners had delayed his work five months.

SMOKE OVERCOMES FIREMAN; FLAMES CHAR HOLMES HOUSE

A Daly City volunteer fireman battled and was overcome by smoke and fumes Sunday afternoon when he rushed into a burning house at 170 Winchester street after hearing that a child might be trapped in the building.

David Newman, 33, 245 Oliver street, searched the house, staggered out a rear door and collapsed. He was revived a few minutes later by an inhalator squad. Meanwhile the two-alarm blaze left damages estimated at $5000. Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy reported that volunteer Newman ran into the house after answering the fire call from his own home near by. The smoke-blackened home is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes and their three sons.

The Holmes and two of their sons were in the back yard when the fire broke out. It was first feared that the third son was in the house. He was later found playing in a nearby park.

Chief Kennedy ordered a second alarm turned in when flames ignited the wall of an adjoining house at 166 Winchester, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Delfino, and threatened several houses on the block.

Flames licked the sky and were visible a mile away. Several thousand spectators gathered to watch temporarily blocked fire equipment. Blue flames from a broken gas pipe in the basement added another hazard to the firemen. Five local engines and three San Francisco pieces of fire fighting equipment answered the alarm.

The fire apparently started in some rubbish in the basement, leaving the kitchen and breakfast nook in charred ruins.

San Mateo county takes 24 per cent of Daly City's court revenue, while holding back only 13 per cent from San Bruno and 12 per cent from South San Francisco.

Method of apportionment is based on estimated cost of operation of the superseded court. Before municipal court came into being in January, 1953, Daly City was served with a justice court, consisting of a judge and part-time secretary. All misdemeanors, traffic violations, and subsequent fines handled through the justice court were taken over by the municipal jurisdiction.

The resolution said, "Daly City does not get a just share of the court revenue."

Councilman Edward Dennis originally called for State Assembly review of the court operation, charging that methods of apportioning municipal court money were "unfair." Dennis claims that the city is losing $7000 a year because of this unjust distribution of court moneys.

GROCERY DEADLOCK CONTINUES; 3rd WEEK

No progress has been reported in settling the strike and lockout of the AFL Grocery Clerks and Retail Grocers association as it starts its third week today (Friday). A two-hour meeting Tuesday between labor and management never reached the bargaining point on any issue.

Employer spokesmen maintain a willingness to negotiate. Union representatives stated that they will continue to sign contracts on an individual basis.

May Hike Drain Work $30,000

MANAGER ORDINANCE PASSED BY COUNCIL

Before a gathering of about 20 citizens, Daly City council Monday night introduced ordinance creating a strong city manager form of government here.

Mayor Joseph Verducci introduced the legislation. The meeting was in marked contrast to the previous week's session, when the chambers were jammed with 150 persons and threats of recall were hurled at councilmen by some of the more irate citizens.

Trailer Court Hearing Is Postponed

A request that public hearing on Smith Enterprises' proposed 76-unit trailer court be postponed was granted by the city council Monday night.

Hugh Smith Jr., representing the applicant, said in a letter to the council that his firm might try to work out some development more appropriate for the property on Brunswick street near Hillside boulevard.

The hearing was scheduled to be held Monday. Several citizens were on hand to protest granting use permit for the trailer court.

Mrs. Carl Berg, 185 Hillside, said, "Quite a few of us are here tonight on this trailer court matter."

Mayor Joseph Verducci explained that, "There is a possibility Smith will come up with something more favorable than a trailer court."

Councilman Edward Dennis added that, "I understand he may sell the property for some other use."

One member of the audience filed a petition protesting the trailer court with the city council. Council re-set the hearing for May 23.

COLLECT STRANGE HOLIDAY BOOST LOOT

George Washington might have told his father when he chopped down the cherry tree. Thus far no one has told Daly City police who committed the strange assortment of robberies on George's anniversary. Thieves took off with a Chief Petty officer's uniform; 18 cans of Alemito CD-2; a stapling gun; camera; steering wheel; radio; sun glasses; two spot lights; and a chrome strip.

Spiro Chelamedos of El Sobrante was visiting at 115 Crestwood drive Tuesday when he returned to his car, finding his naval reserve uniform gone. Thief had evidently reached in a small side window to gain entry. The glove compartment had also been looted of small change.

A few doors away robbers also visited Kenneth Thurston, 110 Crestwood, apt. 1. The salesman was awakened by the sound of running footsteps and a car motor at approximately 1 a.m. Later the same day he discovered that someone had stolen a camera, sunglasses and a stapling gun from his car parked in front of his home. The contents of the glove compartment were scattered on the front seat.

Burglars at 7338A Mission may have taken TV commercials too literally. Paul H. Wilson, 508 Johnson avenue, Sharp Park, reported that 18 cans of Alemito CD-2 had been taken from the garage at the Daly City address. The thieves had broken a skylight to gain entry and slide down a 30-foot rope to the floor. Police found a smeared foot print in the broken glass. It seems the pilferers weren't overly greedy... they left 6 cans of the stuff behind.

Urge Speed-up On W'lake Clubhouse

A joint meeting between the council, recreation commission and Henry Doelger to speed construction of a $25,000 clubhouse at the 10-acre Westlake park site was called for by the city council Monday night.

Jack Kendree, representing Doelger, who has agreed to donate the clubhouse, brought an architect's and elevation plans for the recreation facility.

According to Kendree, Doelger would be prepared to start construction of the building as soon as other park facilities were installed.

Pointing out that it would take at least a year to finish the park development, since there is only $2000 left in the recreation budget, Mayor Joseph Verducci urged that Doelger consider starting work on the structure immediately.

"There's no need for completion of the clubhouse and park facilities to coincide," the mayor said. "The clubhouse could be used immediately by many organizations."

Kendree questioned the council as to when full-time recreation activities would be underway on the park grounds. "Probably not until

Only member of the audience to comment on passing of the legislation was George Kirchhubel, 57 Hillcrest drive, a tavern owner who appeared last week to protest passage of the ordinance.

The tavern proprietor also inquired as to when it would come up for final adoption.

City Attorney Frank Blum said it might be adopted next Monday.

Reads Statement

Verducci read a prepared statement. He asked what the number of the ordinance was, to which City Clerk B. C. Ross replied it would not be numbered until final adoption to the audience which declared, "at conclusion of the public hearing February 14 it was the council's opinion that there were practically no objections to the city manager form of government."

The statement said, "There were demands that the council call a special election to present this matter to the people, but there was no evidence of opposition to the proposed city manager government. In the face of this, we feel the people could rightly criticize us were we to spend $3500 for a special election merely because a few people state we should."

"We are aware that the law provides that city manager government must be rescinded in the same manner adopted. Therefore, if we should learn from experience (Continued on Page 2)

They charged that the 48-inch storm drain which starts at Hillside street and crosses diagonally to First street would be over-loaded from waters flowing off Mission, Hillside and Crocker hills.

According to Bob Young of Valley street, during heavy rains the 48-inch line cannot handle the flow, with the result that water backs up in the streets.

Smith maintains that the line has never been filled to capacity and would be able to handle any additional run-off from new storm drain installations.

Change in Jefferson Elementary School district board of trustees election procedure was urged Wednesday night in a letter from Ward Dunham, president of the Westlake Improvement association.

In his correspondence to the board, Dunham said election regulations should be changed so that Westlake would be insured adequate representation.

His proposal was that trustees be elected from sections, instead of at large.

Dunham pointed out that Broadmoor, with 4500 residents, has two representatives on the board, and older Daly City, with a 13,000 population, has three trustees, while Westlake, 11,000 population, (Continued on Page 2) spring of '56." Administrator Dan Andersen said.

Kendree suggested that the complete program should be worked out by the recreation commission and presented to Doelger.

Verducci said, "I'd like to recommend that Doelger proceed with the building even though the park isn't completed. The clubhouse could be used every night in the week by teen-agers."

Andersen was instructed to arrange a meeting between Kendree the council and the commission. He said the session has tentatively been set for March 7.

Cost of the proposed storm drain installation in southeast Daly City may be upped $30,000 to a total of $130,000.

The project, to be financed by an assessment district, may be expanded to include re-vamping the drainage set-up on Mission street.

Engineer Edwin Smith told the council Monday night that the state would finance 25 per cent of the Mission drain project, estimated to cost about $45,000.

Rather than pay for the Mission drain work out of city funds, the council concurred that it would be easier to add cost of the job to the drainage district already proposed.

Boundaries of the drainage assessment district would be increased to include the area between Hillside and Mission streets, north of Price street.

Whether the additional drain work would increase individual assessments in the original district can not be determined at present, Smith said. Under the original plan, assessments would average about $50 per homeowner.

The state engineers, in consultation with Smith, said present Mission drainage is inadequate. The state recommends that an 18-inch line be installed parallel to the present drain installation.

These two lines would carry water direct to Colma creek. Under the first drain proposal, only work called for on Mission was to increase size of catch basins, with overflow water being routed as far as Market street.

Citizens from the lower Daly City area, on hand at Monday's meeting, charged that the overall drainage plan still does not provide for handling their problem.

They charged that the 48-inch storm drain which starts at Hillside street and crosses diagonally to First street would be over-loaded from waters flowing off Mission, Hillside and Crocker hills.

According to Bob Young of Valley street, during heavy rains the 48-inch line cannot handle the flow, with the result that water backs up in the streets.

Mission. Anthony D'Acquisto, 77 Sheffield drive, told police that a 1949 convertible had been looted. Using a wrench, hammer, and screwdriver the thieves had broken the left wing window and taken the above articles. Being rather polite, they left behind the screws from the radio and chrome strip on the floorboard. D'Acquisto told police that the strip would fit only another mold of the same make car. A rear seat cover had been cut with a sharp instrument. There is no record of George doing that on his birthday!

Council Adopts New Ordinance On Subdivisions

A comprehensive 18-page subdivision ordinance, regulating all zoning, building and annexation activities, was adopted unanimously by the city council Monday night.

The legislation will become law on March 23, 30 days after passage.

(Complete text of the ordinance may be found on page 7 of THE RECORD.)

Heart Ills No. 1 Killer

Heart disease is the number one killer in San Mateo county, the federal government announced recently. It accounts for some 33 per cent of all annual deaths, according to a statistical survey.

As disclosed by the Park Row New Service in New York, the most recent figures released by the government showed that out of 1846 deaths in this county, 978 were attributed to heart disease. What does this mean? The survey relates that it is a greater threat to life than accidents, cancer and all other diseases combined.

This is only one per cent shy of the 54% recorded for Pacific states as a whole. This statistic is slightly lower than the state mortality rate.

Government statisticians report that eventually almost everyone will die of a heart condition. The Heart association estimates that, at the present time, 9,000,000 persons have some form of heart or blood vessel disease.

BUSINESS LICENSES MAY BE DIVORCED FROM POLICE DEPT.

Following recommendation of the police commission, Daly City council Monday night moved to divorce handling of business licenses from the police department. This job is currently handled by Police Sgt. William Bolger. Councilmen agreed to turn the duty over to the city treasurer.

The council also approved police commission recommendation that Bolger be allowed to stay on duty 90 days past his retirement date. This will enable Bolger to acquaint the treasurer with the handling of licenses.

Thieves Bag $916 In Clerk Kidnap-Heist

Daly City police are seeking today two young hold-up artists who kidnaped-robbed a 17-year-old stock clerk of $916.81 Friday night.

Gerald Wayne Banks, 218 Miramar avenue, San Francisco, employed at the Crocker Deluxe grocery, at Crocker and Irvington streets, was walking from the local branch of Bank of America when he was accosted by the two robbers. A late model black and white sedan pulled up to the curb alongside him.

A youth, described as 6' 2" and approximately 20 years old, jumped out and grabbed Banks by the arm. Pointing a revolver at him, the gunman ordered, "Get into the car and lay down on the back seat."

The grocery clerk was then driven to an isolated section of the Crocker hills and dumped out. He then walked back to the store before reporting the robbery. Police were called by Robert M. Hahn, owner.

The clerk told officers that the driver of the car was young and extremely nervous. The gunman, he said, spoke in a soft, calm voice. After taking the money bag containing the store's money, the holdup youngster ordered Banks from the car. He said the man with the gun was called "Bob" by his companion.

Might we add a suggestion: Pillows for the weary, so they might not be inconvenienced during their slumber while the council passes such trivialities as city manager, form of government and subdivision regulations.

Daly City thieves are losing their professional perspective on the value of loot and appear to be degenerating into a band of pack rats.

WAITRESS DENIES GUILT: TRIAL SET

Presiding superior court judge Louis De Mattei set Wednesday, April 11, as trial date for Mrs. Bernice Mary Lewis, Daly City waitress, accused of dope peddling.

Mrs. Lewis pleaded not guilty to two counts of selling heroin at arraignment proceedings this week. She is one of 11 persons arrested January 26 in a roundup of narcotics peddlers in north San Mateo county and San Francisco.

At the time of her arrest the 54-year-old waitress told police she had been a heroin addict for 39 years and had a $40-a-day habit. Mrs. Lewis was employed in a local doughnut shop. The double count resulted from her allegedly selling "H" in the shop to a state undercover agent.

State Governors
A formal opinion from Lyl Edson, school district attorney, was that election regulations for school districts are governed by state law.

Mrs. Helen Cheatham, board chairman, commented that, "It's odd they would ask this as they had the majority of candidates in the last school board election." (Dunham, Joseph Toboni and Cass Norton were unsuccessful candidates for trustee posts last year.)

"I suggest Westlake support their own candidates if they're interested in representation," Mrs. Cheatham said.

Rec Tax OK
In other action Monday, Edson informed the board that "There does not appear to be any restrictions" on the five cent recreation tax suggested by the city of Daly City. "As long as the money is spent for recreation."

The district has been investigating Daly City's proposal for entering a joint agreement on use of recreation facilities and levying a five-cent per $100 school tax for recreation.

In other action Wednesday the board:

1. Held over four bids for landscaping Olympia school. Low figure was $2216, entered by Rudolph Watson.

2. Accepted deed to $74,336.75 Vista Del Mar school site.

3. Hired Frank Tringali and Nicholas Chirichigno as custodians and Susan Flaners as Olympia first grade teacher.

4. Accepted letters of resignation from Charles Nichols, custodian, and Carol Kane, Olympia first grade teacher.

5. Granted permission for Mrs. Louine Bostwick, Mrs. Eleanor Zonovich, H. E. Alfson and Don Pagani to attend California elementary school administrators conference at Santa Rosa April 3-6.

6. Discussed adopting policy to determine closer estimates of building costs.

7. Set policy covering charges to pupils for materials used in arts and crafts.

8. Granted H. Z. Weibel, superintendent, permission to attend school administrators conference at Denver March 11-16.

9. Discussed payment of change orders at Colma school amounting to $3700. Refused to pay $60 change order for sealing foundation wall at Jefferson multi-use room.

10. Observed that March 2 is date for special meeting with city of Daly City and March 7 is date for San Mateo county school board association gathering.

down to what do we want in the way of transportation and who can give it to us?" Councilman Michael De Barnardi said.

"It may cost a lot for us to subsidize the muni when we can get the same service for nothing from outside firms."

Councilman Sanford Vickers, chairman of the transportation committee, suggested Verducci present his proposal at the March 8 meeting at the time the outside bus companies make their offers.

Asked about the legality of subsidizing muni railway's losses here, City Attorney Frank Blum said "There's still a doubt in my mind if we can subsidize. I think it can be worked out legally, however, by a leasing arrangement."

Subject of providing Broadmoor transportation in event of subsidy was also brought forth. "How are we going to justify service in Broadmoor if the buses are losing money?" asked Wilson.

Verducci answered that potential losses might be made up from Broadmoor riders, adding, "If a transit expert says Broadmoor is a losing proposition, we'd just have to eliminate that route."

The telephone cable being put up by this lineman is one of the newest things in the telephone business. It looks like nothing so much as an old-fashioned twist of licorice. But actually it's six pairs of wire coated with a special abrasive-resistant plastic. The new cable was especially designed for use in telephone lines in areas where homes are widely scattered. It's extremely light and easy to work with. And its cost in use is less than other kinds of wire. Savings like this help us keep good telephone service one of the best buys in your family budget. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

ence that this is not the type of government for us, we can do away with it by the simple process of rescinding the ordinance—rather than again calling a special election at a cost to the people."

Need Strong Man

The release stated further, "In order for this type of government to function properly we must procure the strongest type of man to handle it. We have found we can accomplish this only by having a strong city manager ordinance—a city administrator ordinance does not attract the highest type of man because of its limitations."

At last week's meeting Abe Rabinowitch, 269 Wilshire, told councilmen he would start a recall movement if they passed the manager legislation by ordinance. He held that the matter should be referred to the electorate. He also urged that charter form of government be investigated.

Rabinowitch said he had all the necessary papers ready to start recall of the five councilmen if they passed the ordinance.

He was out of town yesterday and could not be reached for comment.

ARTHRITIS SUFFERERS: Good news

MAKING A GOOD NEWSPAPER BETTER

THE RECORD takes pride this week in bringing to its readers a fresh new look, made possible by the installation of a modern Ludlow type casting machine with its myriad of new typographic faces and by addition of new editorial features.

Our new masthead on page one and in smaller editions throughout the paper typifies this newspaper's efforts to progress and keep pace with Daly City, "Gateway to the Peninsula," and one of the fastest growing municipalities in the Bay Area.

Our new type faces will serve as a reader and advertising stimulant; attractive and functional, these new types make it easier on the reader in his perusal of the news and more profitable for the advertiser because his message has better pulling power through better display. New features and columns likewise benefit both our readers and advertisers. A newspaper with comprehensive news coverage and lively columns is a newspaper the average family wants in their home and a well-read publication is one that makes money for the merchants using its columns.

As of the first of this month, THE RECORD has 3000 paid subscribers, largest weekly circulation in San Mateo county.

As a circulation leader among weekly newspapers in this county, we must keep pace with our position.

We are doing so by bringing to our reading and advertising public the latest and most effective styles of typography along with many new features which make a good newspaper better.

RECORDS IN THE PAST

People are always talking about the "good old days." Just how good were they? The evidence is in this column, dug out of the files of THE RECORD five, fifteen and twenty-five years ago. These are the items read by you, your parents and your grandparents.

FIVE YEARS AGO

A deadlock was announced January 19 in the strike issue between Safeway has settled down for a clerk's union. Officials say that Safeway has settled down for a long siege.

THE RECORD carried four cartoon strips five years ago. "Virgil" was of the "Dennis, the Maniac" type, but not as imaginative.

Chihuahua's and toy fox terriers were on sale locally for $5; larger economy cockers and sheep dogs brought $7.50 on the block. California sardines in the 8 oz. tin were advertised at 10c per; the imported Norwegian fishies cost 21c.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

January 3—Work begins today on the construction of Daly City's new $2700 dog pound. Located on the hill below water reservoir No. 3, fronting Orange street, the new pound will accommodate 20 dogs at one time.

WATERS RATES OPENING OVATION

By Gloria Lorenzo

First-nighters at the Geary didn't wait for the final curtain to signify their approval of "At Home With Ethel Waters" Monday evening. As she walked out on the stage, a tremendous burst of applause sounded from both sides of Geary street. The white-haired entertainer had won her audience before her accompanist Reginald Beane could begin the first of twenty-two songs.

Undoubtedly one of the greatest artists of the theatre, Miss Waters seemed to receive as much pleasure as she gave. The peeling gilt of the proscenium arch and the worn upholstery of the orchestra seats faded into the semi-darkness as Miss Waters wove her sentimental cavalcade with showmanship and a warm personality.

"I Ain't Gonna Sin No More" set the comic pace for her one-woman show. She followed with "Sleepy Time Down South," "Throw Dirt," "Am I Blue" and "Half of Me."

From "Rhapsody in Black," 1931, Miss Waters chose a song written especially for her—"Washtub Rube." The song-monologue combo was one of the high points of the evening. While Miss Waters changed a simple print dress, Reggie Beane carried on with a few compositions of his own. By far his best personal work came later in the evening when he caressed the 88 with "Odd Moments."

In less time than it took for Miss Waters to capture the hearts of the theatre-goers, she returned wearing a filmy turquoise frock.

The National Auto company advertised a '38 Ford 2-door sedan for $540. . . the local Nash dealer offer a new 1940 Arrow-flight for $999 delivered here.

ANNA NEAGLE and MAY ROBSON were appearing in "Nurse Edith Cavell" at the Daly City Theater. On tap for the rest of the week were ALICE FAYE and DON AMECHE in "Hollywood Calvalcade" and BORIS KARLOFF in "The Man They Could Not Hang."

From San Francisco came the news that KATHERINE CORNELL and FRANCIS LEDERER were playing at the Curran theater.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Along with Little Orphan Annie and Jiggs, Bayer's Aspirin was relieving pain; advertisers reminded you to ask for it by name—Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. A soulful soul asked you to try Lydia Pinkham's and see the difference. The Hotel Wilshire in San Francisco offered breakfast at two-bits and dinner for 85c.

An announcement that William Howard Taft, former president, had resigned as Chief Justice because of ill health. Charles Evan Hughes was scheduled to resign from The Hague court of international justice to take over Taft's post.

DC POLICE RANK TOP TEN PERCENT ... SAFETY GROUP

Daly City police rank in the top 10 per cent as compared with departments in cities of comparable size, the National Safety Council announced today.

The department is first in the death record rating—no traffic deaths since November 8, 1951. For two years running, Daly City law enforcement has received commendations from the American Automobile Association for non-fatalities.

Each year the National Safety Council compiles a report on the city's police as compared with 438 other cities of the same population. The most recent report in 1953 showed that the local department jumped from 122 to 44th in a 12-month period—thus bringing their rating to the top ten per cent in total police program.

The record by the council was based on the 15,000 population of the year; Daly City's unofficial population now stands at 27,000.

Phenomenal growth of this kind cannot altogether be taken into previous consideration. Nor can new additions to law enforcement equipment be anticipated. However, the six patrol cars contain the latest model 3-way radios, and other modern facilities.

Future plans call for a photolab and darkroom facilities for the identification division. The officer who would be in charge has had two years college plus extensive FBI training.

To realize the diversified functions of the department is to point out the accommodations and needs of the Daly City police.

The average citizen will have occasional contact with a patrolman, or the desk officer at the station. The desk man serves as a sort of liaison between the department and the public. He takes calls, receives complaints, dispatches patrol vehicles, checks criminal identification and keeps the watch record.

Wild Horses—Flying Saucers

The officer on duty at the desk receives all types of telephone and office reports—from wild horses to flying saucers. The following is the swing watch report for a recent weekend. A sergeant and four officers were on duty for this watch, commencing at 5 p.m. and Salads are gourmet dreams—they can be prepared easily and can be dramatic with little effort.

In fact, the only thing that requires time is the washing of the salad greens. The best time to wash them is as you need them, salting the water a little, then carefully drying with a soft towel or paper towel. The greens should be crisp and well chilled.

Successful gourmet salads need not be overly ornate. Instead use a little imagination to get an extraordinary effect with ordinary ingredients. Here are a few unusual summer salads:

Aspic in Cucumber Boats

- 1 can tomato aspic, chilled
- 2 cucumbers
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1 tsp. curry

Cut cucumbers in half lengthwise, scoop out the centers, and cut into cubes. Cut chilled aspic into pieces and mix with cucumber cubes. Refill boats, top with curried-sour cream dressing, and garnish with watercress.

Salmon Wine Aspic

- 1 can condensed chicken consommé
- 2 envelopes gelatin
- 1/2 cup white wine
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 small can salmon, cleaned

Heat consommé, wine and water. Soak gelatin in 1/2 cup water and dissolve in hot consommé. Add salmon, and chill 'til firm, and serve with 1/2 cup mayonnaise and 2 tbsp. horseradish mixed.

Fruit Salad in Wine

- 1 can drained fruit salad
- 1 pkg. raspberry dessert
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup red wine
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 1 tsp. ground allspice

Make up dessert according to directions but use water and wine. Chill until it thickens slightly, then add fruit and let set (add fresh fruit if you want). Serve with allspice-sour cream dressing.

Chicken Mouse

- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 3 egg yolks
- 1 cup heavy cream beaten stiff
- 1 can cooked chicken, diced
- 1/2 cup almonds, sliced
- 1 tsp. celery seeds

Beat egg yolk and add slowly to 1 cup hot broth made from bouillon cube. Cook until mixture thickens. Add 1 tsp. gelatin soaked in 1 tsp. cold water, then add chicken and almonds and celery seeds. Let mixture chill until it begins to set, then fold in whipped cream, and pour into larger bowl (the one you will serve from), and let chill again.

SECRETARY Juanita Giusti offers Officer Bruno Conci a crime report, as he dispatches patrolman Bruno Conci on investigation. In the center rear of the left picture, can be seen part of the records and identification file of the department. Officer Conci, in car, demonstrates the 3-way radio on the patrol car. The local law enforcement department has been awarded two commendations recently for a no-traffic fatality record for two years. Daly City police are in the top ten per cent of 458 comparable agencies, according to the National Safety Council reports.

Ridgeley Cummings

Into each life a little rain must fall and at one time or another most men find themselves confronted with the necessity of earning an honest dollar for the support of themselves and their dependents.

The more dependents one accumulates, the more honest dollars he must earn.

It is raining quite heavily where I stand and suddenly in the pursuit of the dollar I find myself faced with the necessity of making an honest study of one aspect of the history of Los Angeles.

This seems sufficient excuse for the facts that follow. Municipal history is not something I would have been likely to plunge into on my own. But the motivation was strong. And some of the nuggets, by-products of my studies, seem worthy of passing on.

These nuggets have to do with the growth of a metropolis.

Fastest Growing

Los Angeles is the fastest growing city in the country, perhaps in the world.

I don't think mere size proves anything and I'm not particularly puffed with provincial pride about living in the area. Nevertheless this phenomenon of growth is interesting in itself.

The city is 173 years old, a ripe old age so far as North America is concerned. El Pueblo de Nuestra Señora la Reina de Los Angeles was founded on September 4, 1781, with 11 families comprising 44 persons as the first settlers. Politically the area belonged to King Carlos III of Spain.

On March 26, 1825, Alta California ratified the federal constitution of the Mexican Republic at Monterey and thus California became a Mexican Territory. There weren't enough people in the area for Alta California to be accepted as a state.

Raised To City

The citizens of the Pueblo of Los Angeles ratified the Mexican constitution on April 30 of the same year. Ten years later, in 1835, Mexico by official decree raised the Pueblo to the rank of a city, Ciudad de Los Angeles, and made it capital of the territory.

In 1846 came the Bear Flag revolution up in Sonoma, with repercussions that resulted two years later in the first American City Council for Los Angeles.

Statehood came in 1850 and on April 14th of the year the City of Los Angeles was incorporated under the laws of the United States. The population at that time was 1,610 and the area of the city was 28.1 square miles.

Today as I write, one hundred and four years later, the city's area is 453 square miles and the population is upward of two million.

Just how much upward is a matter of controversy between the Chamber of Commerce and the city of Philadelphia. If it is 150,000 over two million, as is quite likely the way people are pouring in, then Los Angeles is the third largest city in the nation. If the population figure is 2,103,000, as Philadelphia maintain, then L.A. is fourth and just barely nosed out of third place. By the next official census it will be third if not second.

The difference between 28 square miles and 453, between 1,610 people and more than two million, is what I have been investigating, and what this growth came about?

Three Things

If I wanted to wind this piece up real quick I would answer by saying three things—climate, water and power.

But that's simplifying too much and, with the reader's indulgence, I'll go into a few details. When California became part of the United States in 1850, the southern part of the state enjoyed a pastoral economy. Cattle ranching was the principle occupation, as Richard Henry Dana indicated in his "Two Years Before the Mast," and the land was divided into huge feudal ranchos.

This was a pleasant way of life for the inhabitants of the region but the system could support only a limited number of people. The peaceful pattern was soon destroyed by population pressures and federal legislation.

The population came as an overflow from the gold rush. The legislation required validation of the Mexican land titles. The people who owned the land, the rancheros, became involved in expensive litigation and many of them were forced to mortgage their land in order to finance court battles.

Won and Lost

Some won their court cases but lost their land anyway. Julio Verdugo, one of the large estate holders, borrowed $3,445 against Rancho San Rafael at 3 per cent per month. Eight years later the loan plus interest had risen to $58,750 and Verdugo lost his rancho by foreclosure.

Other rancheros sold portions of their land to finance their fight for the balance. Others raised money by selling part of their cattle. The litigation was prolonged and in many cases no decision was forthcoming for 10 and 15 years.

Toward the close of this period nature joined the politicians. A severe drought killed off the cattle in large numbers. Many of the indebted rancheros went bankrupt. Through foreclosure and financial ruin the great ranchos were subdivided.

Farmers from northern California set up an economy of small scale agriculture. Stage-coaches and transcontinental railroads brought more farmers, tourists and speculators from the East.

The city's first newspaper, the Los Angeles Star, was published on May 17, 1851, and the same year the first wooden house was built in the city. All previous ones had been of adobe. The first brick house was erected in 1853.

First Communication

The first regular communication with the East was established in 1858 when the Butterfield Stage arrived in Los Angeles. In 1859 the city made its first annexation, 1.2 square miles known as the Southern Extension.

In 1860 the first official U. S. census found the city's population to be 4,385 and its area 30.3 square miles.

I have a lot of other statistics at my fingertips but at this point I'm reminded of the story about the chorus girl who was given a book on eugenics. Some time later her friend asked her how she liked the book. "It tells me more about birth control than I care to know," she replied.

Already I've excavated as many facts as I care to disclose at the moment. In a future essay I may pursue this rich vein. Meanwhile, as Haile Selassie remarked as he

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Gentlemen:

We would like to call to your attention a situation that exists which we feel requires immediate action.

About three or four months ago work was started on a small sewage pumping plant directly in back of our home at 1 El Portal Way. Some men dug a large hole and put in some concrete and reinforcing steel and part of some forms. No one has done any work on this project for quite some time. All of the small children in the neighborhood play in this general area. There are no barricades to protect the children and some one is sure to get hurt if this situation is not corrected.

Additional Danger

In the process of installing this plant they have cut the old sewer line about 100 feet west of the new plant. Thus raw sewage dumps into a large hole and runs in an open trench, several hundred feet in length. Here, also, the children find great sport, not realizing the danger.

Son Falls In Sewage

We did not have any idea that this condition existed till our seven-year-old son came home last week after he had fallen in the open sewage pit. My wife undressed our son in the yard and his pants and shoes went into the garbage can. The next day he showed us the open sewage.

We called Collins the health officer. He was not in. We were told that his office would look into the matter.

Over the past few months we have noticed rather bad odors at certain times of the day. We had no idea that this sewage condition existed until it was forcibly brought to our attention.

We would greatly appreciate your cooperation in helping correct this dangerous and unhealthy condition.

The Hartley R. Appletons

This also expresses my feelings.
Mrs. M. Frenes

Dear Editor:

In a typical Republican denunciation, based on assumption rather than information, I have been personally attacked by Mr. Louis Francis, former head of the Young Republicans. He asserted that merely because I differed with the Republican Congressman it was obvious that I had no knowledge of political science or law.

This would certainly astound my alma mater, that bestowed two degrees upon me—the first for four years of study with a major in political science and public administration, the second for three years of law study.

Other people think that Congressman Younger was completely wrong in introducing a Federal bill to cover crimes that are within a State's jurisdiction.

We people who so think are adequately supported by the Legislatures of California, Nevada and Oregon, all currently in session.

As to the California legislature—anyone who thinks that the Republican Congressman is right should read the text of Assembly Bills Nos. 2322 and 2333. These bills provide for penalties for "transporting, selling, furnishing, administering, or giving away, . . . any narcotic." The second bill would make the penalties applicable to any person who would "import into this State" any narcotic.

The California bills were introduced by fifty-eight (58) assemblymen of whom fourteen (14) are attorneys—included was the Republican Assemblyman from the 26th Assembly District (also an attorney).

While the California bills would not, as introduced, provide for the death penalty for sales to minors, they do provide for long term or life imprisonment.

In Oregon, House Bill No. 104, introduced by seven assemblymen, would provide for the death penalty on a second offense.

In Nevada, Senate Bill No. 33 would make death the penalty on sale, etc., to a minor.

All of these bills in all three states would amend existing narcotic penalty laws. For years and years these states, as all other states, have believed that this was a matter for state legislation. Congressman Younger disagrees with these forty-eight states. Who is right?

Very truly yours,
James T. McKay

Piaf Revue Opens March 7 At Geary

Edith Piaf returns to San Fran-cisco, after a 2 year absence, bring-ing her Continental Revue. Her debut in this city in January of 1953 was hailed by the critics with superlatives reserved for only the greats of the stage. This time Edith Piaf and her Continental Revue will be at the Geary Theatre for two weeks commencing March 7. This is all too short a run for one of the world's finest entertainers but previous bookings do not allow for a longer stay here.

For this engagement Miss Piaf will sing her old favorites as well as some new songs in the style that has made her the favorite of both continents. She will be supported by four acts including her husband, Jacques Peals, an international singing star, who will also serve as 'compete' of the show. Jacques was one of the highlights of the 1953 show. The rest of the show is all new with the comedy being supplied by that international zany, Harry Mimmo, whose pantomime banished the coast to coast au-diences of the Ed Sullivan show, plus the famous French apache dancers, The Riveiras, the hilarious Arnauts and the thrilling per-formance of Les Marcellis.

Performances are nightly, in-cluding Sunday, with matinees on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. Curtain time for matinees will be 2:30 and all evenings at 8:30 except Sunday and the curtain then will be 7:30.

ANOTHER BAD CHECK

A doubly-talented man is the number one suspect in a bad check cashed by Marie Bertolucci, 6315 Mission street, recently. Russel J. Hold Firearm Law For Further Study

Final reading on an ordinance governing firearms was held up by the city council Monday, on request of the police department. Chief Roland Petrocchi said law enforcement officers throughout the county are seeking to make firearms ordinances uniform in all cities.

Several women in the audience inquired if the new ordinance con-trolled shooting of B-B guns in the city.

According to City Attorney Frank Blum, there is already a city ordinance which prevents children from buying the air guns. However, one lady pointed out that the youngsters do thousands of dollars worth of damage to homes every year with the guns.

Mayor Joseph Verducci moved that a letter be sent to the police commission informing them of the B-B gun problem, and asking for a possible solution.

RICHARD MASON'S DINNER FEATURES TRANSISTORS TALK

One of the features of the Rich-mond Mason's dinner meeting on March 1, will be a talk about transistors.

The transistor—an invention of Bell Laboratories—is far different from the vacuum tube, which it replaces in many phases of elec-tronics. It is small—the size of a 22 short rifle cartridge. Made of the purest metals known—germa-nium—it is durable and can be bounced around or dropped with-out any adverse affect.

The new device has no glass envelope, vacuum or filaments. It responds immediately to electrical impulses, does not throw off any heat, and can be packed with its mates in a cramped space.

Ted Libby, of Pacific Tele-phones' public relations group, will demonstrate the practical uses of transistors with such trans-istor-equipped items as a vest-pocket radio, a wrist watch trans-mitter, a "handy-talky," and a one-thousand cycle tone oscillator. He will also tell how telephone engi-neers are making use of the six-year-old "mighty midjet."

The dinner meeting will be held at the Masonic Temple on First Avenue and Clement.

Read I Peter 5:6-11.

Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us. (Hebrews 12:1).

It was at a meeting of the Alco-holics Anonymous group. Every member there had experienced the awful grip of alcohol. Most of them had their lives, jobs, and fami-lies almost ruined by drink.

One of the things that caused me to wonder was the phrase heard many times: "I am an alco-holic." When I asked one of the phrase heard many times: "I asked one of the members why they said "I am" instead of "I was", he replied: "Every day I am an alco-holic. The temptation is still there. Only by admitting that I am an alcoholic, and then trying to live sober one day at a time, can I keep sober. And I could not do that unless I had God's help. His spiritual power."

Likewise, each of us needs to remember that we are sinners. We may not be alcoholics, but we have our temptations. It is neces-sary for us to keep ourselves humble before God. Each of us seek His help each day to keep from falling into sin. Even the best of us is a sinner in need of God's presence and power.

PRAYER
Father, help me to live each day so close to Thee that thought tempted, I may not fall. May I see that as long as I am in the flesh I will face temptations—and will need Thy strength to overcome them; through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

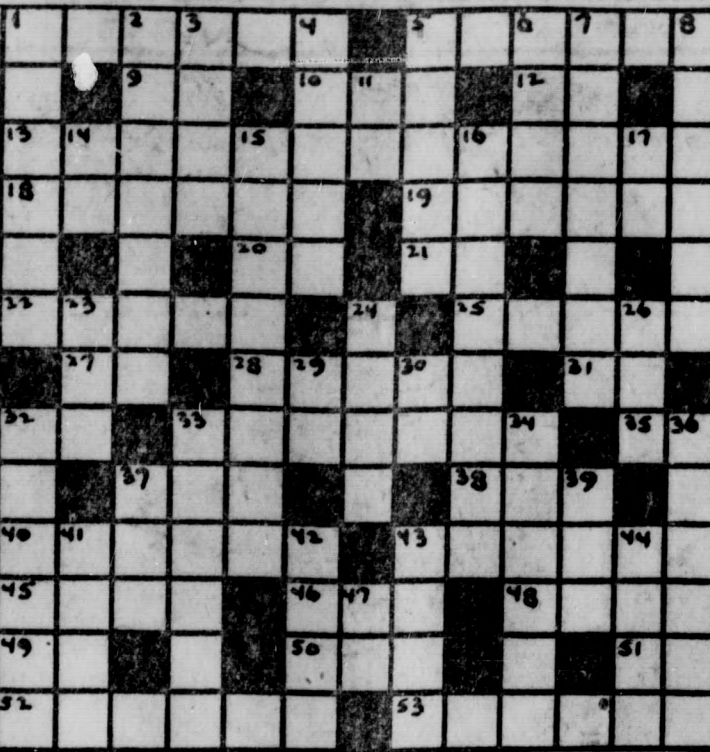

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Although sin will beset me, God

Youngster Confesses To Check Theft, Forgery

The case of check, check, who's got the recreation employee's check ended in San Francisco last Wednesday afternoon. A 17-year-old boy confessed to S.F. postal authorities the theft-forgery of Daly City employee's Bobbie Car-roll's check for $31.

The whole case began when Miss Carroll told the city clerk she had not received the check. Investigation revealed that she was listed at the wrong address on Morse street. A neighbor marked the envelope "Could be Moss street" and sent it back in the mail.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 1 New Federal Tax Law May Save You Money

(This is one of a series of articles on income tax changes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the California Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The "Ideas of March" will no longer hold any terror for the average taxpayer, but the new tax deadline of April 15 can be just as alarming if you don't start early to prepare your federal income tax return.

To help you get started this newspaper is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. Use these articles, together with the instructions that come with your federal income tax forms, to guide you in making out your return.

Most taxpayers report their in-come for the calendar year on a cash basis, and the new rules are explained here as they apply to these typical taxpayers. Anyone who uses a different fiscal year or reports on an accrual basis should check the official instructions to see how he is affected.

Completely Revised Tax Rules

Last August the Internal Revenue Code was completely overhauled by Congress and thousands of changes were made affecting taxpayers. It is estimated that every year a million taxpayers overpay their income taxes by a total of more than $100,000,000. More millions of tax-payers pay less tax than is due, making them liable for assessments, interest and possible penalties.

With the many changes of the new law there is even greater dan-ger of mistakes this year unless you read the instructions and prepare your tax return with great care. This is a good reason for starting long before April 15. Here's another:

You May Get a Refund

If you find that more tax has been withheld from your wages than you actually owe, you will be entitled to a refund of the difference. The sooner you file your return, the sooner you are likely to get your refund.

What are the chances of a re-fund? Well, your tax will probably be less because of the reduction of approximately 10% in tax rates since last year, but you have been getting the advantage of this re-

WHY HAVE LENT?

"I don't believe in Lent," said Sam. "Those days are like any other days."

"It's true," said Bob. "But don't you feel that a special time should be set aside to think about the Lord's suffering?"

"We should be thankful to Jesus every day," said Sam. "I agree," said Bob. "Will you men at the plant work on July 4th?"

"Of course not," said Sam. "Now look," said Bob. "We should be good Americans every day of the year. But still you're setting aside July 4th to remember our independence. It's good to set a day aside to celebrate what is true all year, isn't it?"

"Perhaps July 4th and Christmas and Labor Day," said Sam. "But those are single days." "The principle is the same," said Bob. "If it's good to set aside days for Washington, Lincoln, Independence, to refresh our patriotism, then isn't it even better to set time aside for Jesus, to refresh our spiritual life. We need to think about what Jesus suffered when He died for us. That's Lent."

"I can see your point," Sam agreed.

Don't you agree, too? Worship with us during the Lenten days, in honor of the Christ who died for us all.

Argus Of Colma School

(Ed note: Argus, in Greek mythology, was a giant having 100 eyes. The Argus of Colma School is a new column written and edited by the many reporter eyes of students in Mrs. Marian Trusculli's and Kenneth Ryan's journalism classes at Colma school.)

HOT OFF THE GRIDDLE. At Colma school these past few days, there has been a faint odor of—well, no one could tell exactly what. Until a couple of industrious reporters (female) got together and investigated. These reporters knew about a boy's cooking class which had been started recently. But they hadn't suspected—! But yes, upon investigating, they found that the boys first project HAD been toasted cheese sandwiches. And their next will be pancakes.

Since their time each day is short, they measure the ingredients one day, then mix and cook them, the next. "And," said Mrs. Grace Tobkins, the teacher, with a sly smile, "the best part of this class is that there are never any leftovers!"

WARNING! If you should see numerous students armed with weird, black objects of all shapes and sizes, stalking about in varying degrees of wall-eyed determination, you have reason to beware for its open season on all Colma School students and personnel; no one is safe, not even Principal Hillard Alfson. You see these creatures are candid camera fiends, generating from Mr. Russell Jones' Photography Club, and they are taking pictures for the Colma 1954-55 Yearbook. Knowing well the inventive minds directing these shots, the ensuing photos should offer strange, terrifying and interesting effects.

The Yearbook staff is apparently functioning smoothly. Among those selected as editors are: Editor, Sandra Smith; Business Manager, Marilyn Harris; Activities, Joyce McCowan; Copy, Judy Masterson; Photography, Linda Masterson; Sports, Phil Ziegler. The established cost of the yearbook is $1.50. It will be issued in the last week of school.

TATTLING ON TEACHER. It has been found that one of our teachers is setting a bad example by chewing gum in class. He is asked everyday, "Mr. Hough, are you chewing gum?"

He replies, "No, only a cough drop."

That is a terribly long cold you have, Mr. Hough?

GREAT EXPECTATIONS. It's a boy! Alan Maihori now has a little brother. Let's pay a little respect, now; how do we know, he might be (in twenty years) another Joe Dimaggio or even another Eisenhower. Alan is in Mr. Warren's class, room 82.

ORIENTAL — CHOP CHOP. Miss Huggins' seventh grade class visited the Japanese Tea Garden on Thursday, the 20th of January. This study completed their study of Asia. Upon entering the Garden one of the first things they saw was a huge red and gold pagoda and a Japanese Buddha. They took pictures of the wishing bridge and many other attractions.

REFRESHING—Marilyn Hunt of Mr. Scholten's Room 34 went on a ski-trip to Yosemite during the week of January 21st. She came back with not a broken bone but a wonderful tan.

A DOLL —Roberta Masliakoff has thirty five dolls representing such countries as America, France, Spain, Holland, China, Russia, Italy, Arabia, German, Switzerland, Pakistan, Greece, India, Mexico, Japan, Armenia, Turkey and Hawaii. This project has been made possible through the aid of her godfather who is a traveler.

ROBBINS RAMBLES —What happened to the girls who wanted to go on KOVR? The president has failed to give permission to the girls. "Too Busy." A certain teacher is passing out grades for a subject he doesn't teach. . . . What happened to the Colma Boys Association? . . . Are you still wondering why on February 8 your children felt sick that morning—they were tests—All-day tests!

WE THE PUPIL SPEAK. Wow! what a relief, the kids are sure glad it's over—the achievement test, of course. — Buzz-buzz-buzz went the fire buzzer as a false alarm was turned in for the second time this year. To think this was all caused by a "little" bouncing basketball. — Boys are perspiring and feet are tired from practice for the South City basketball meet—after the Burlingame defeat we are keeping the tired feet crossed. — They just unleashed those reporters again. We are always looking for news. — Boxes—boxes—anyone got boxes? We need them all! Thornton school and part of Colma are moving to the new section of Colma school—excitement and expectation are in the air. — Rah-rah-rah rah rah—18 girls, four of them the leaders, will be seen at all varsity basketball games backing their Alma Mater, Colma. — Come on team!

CHANGES MADE — Mrs. Jo Anne Skonic, fourth grade instructor, has joined her husband at Stockton where he has been transferred. She is replaced by Myrtell McPhail who hails from Texas. Miss McPhail graduated from Mary-Hardin Baylor in Belton, Texas, in 1951, and has been in the teaching field for eighteen months.

TURN OVER A NEW LEAF —With the beginning of the new quarter all papers and assignment sheets were filed in Mrs. Trusculli's class and a fresh start granted to all students.

Local Knights Of Columbus Initiate Largest Class

Forty candidates were initiated into Knights of Columbus Marian council No. 3773 last Monday evening in Colombo Hall by the West of Twin Peaks degree team led by Al Bucci, grand knight. This was the largest class ever to receive the first degree in the local council, according to Joseph Capurro, grand knight. This will make Marian Council one of the leading councils of the state in new memberships. It now holds 12th place among 165 councils.

Among those initiated from Our Lady of Mercy parish in Westlake were: Vern Box, Frank Carroll, John Creighton, Angelo Criscione, Charles Edelman, Nils Fernquist, John Flaherty, John Glendon Jr., Noel Goulding, Harry Huber, Alfred Laine, William McGourty, Thomas McKenna, John Maher, George Philipson, Daniel Salvo, Joseph Shea and Martin Zernicke.

EX-CORONER SENTENCING

William F. Crosby convicted on 18 counts of embezzling last Friday will be sentenced on March 11. The former coroner is liable for one to ten years imprisonment under the state penal code. It further states that the person so convicted is disqualified from holding any public office in the state.

Until the county probation department presents its report, there is a question as to whether or not Crosby can be admitted to probation. The question will be settled Friday, March 11, at which time Leonard Avila, superior court judge, is to pass sentence.

LOCAL RESIDENT IN BELMONT CRASH

Edwin E. Erickson, 22, of Daly City, was hurled through the top of his convertible coupe Thursday morning while returning from visiting friends in Redwood City.

The accident occurred on Ralston avenue west of Belmont when the automobile careened out of control on the foggy, rain-slick highway. Erickson was pinned beneath the car when it overturned in a ditch.

Erickson suffered a fractured skull, pelvis, compound fractures of both arms and legs and extensive burns. He lives at 623 Claridge drive, Westview.

COUNTY FOOD CONTROL

The county board of supervisors has adopted an ordinance to regulate food establishments in San Mateo county by requiring them to obtain permits to operate.

The ordinance includes all restaurants, fish markets, fruit and vegetable markets, meat markets, grocery stores and other places where food, drink or confections are sold. This ruling requires establishments to obtain a $10 permit from the county.

Beginning March 18, the ordinance will be enforced by the county health director. In addition to setting up standards of refrigeration, sterilization, trash and washing facilities, the ordinance regulates ceiling heights, types of floors and prohibits live animals in food establishments.

SAN MATEO REPRESENTATIVE

Senator Harry L. Parkman and Assemblyman Richard J. Dolwig of San Mateo county, leave this weekend for the state capital at Sacramento for the convening of the legislature Monday, following the five-week constitutional recess.

During the recess the legislators have been consulting with their constituents on legislation which would affect the district, and discussed legislative problems with county and city officials and other civic and service groups.

Some 6,000 bills, resolutions and constitutional amendments introduced in the January session, will be placed before the legislature for consideration in the next three months. The legislature must conclude its efforts and adjourn June 7.

The legislature is geared for the "battle of the budget," in which economy-minded members of the assembly and senate will attempt to pare Governor Knight's proposed $1,530,000,000 record-breaking budget to avoid the necessity of new or increased taxes.

Capitol observers have expressed the opinion that the taxpayers on the local level will join industry, business, agriculture and organized labor in the fight to stop the Governor's proposal to foist what they term unnecessary taxes on cigarettes, tobacco, liquor and horse-race betting on the people of the state.

Violas Rate As Top Quality Plant For Winter Budding

Violas rate as a top quality winter bedding plant. They are naturally hardy and withstand the rugged winter weather and still yield a bountiful display of continuous bloom during the season when color is all too scarce in the garden area. Available in solid shades of apricot, red, white, blue and yellow as well as a mixture of many odd shades and combinations there is much color variety to be found in the viola family. Still, the favorite colors year after year seem to be the solid blue and the solid yellow, as these two total over three fourths of the total violas sold. As the two combine beautifully, it is easily understood that they would be popular but a little more attention should be paid to the red and white combination as well as to the lovely informal appearance of a bed or border of the mixed violas.

Quick Color

Often at this season of the year, violas are available as blooming nursery transplants. This is one way to get quick color into the garden with little waste time, as the viola is able to continue its blooming cycle with little or no interruption if carefully handled. Sometimes the plants may be a little overgrown, in which case a slight trimming will prove quite beneficial. Viola are quick to recover from such treatment and will be back in flower production for a longer period of time than if they were not trimmed. Several other plants that are available as blooming transplants at this time

Colma PTA Tea; Plans Election

Colma PTA was hostess at a tea on Friday afternoon, February 18, 1955, in the foyer of the R. S. Thornton school, First and Castle streets, Daly City. Class-room parties also were given at the same time for the children and their teachers for the purpose of saying farewell to the school building. Mrs. Hazel Colwell, principal, the children and their teachers are soon to move to the Colma school, at Market street and Hillside boulevard.

Many meetings of Colma PTA, that was organized to serve both R. S. Thornton and the Jefferson elementary school, were held in this building.

Mrs. Hazel Colwell, Miss Hester Blaylock, and Mrs. Otha Kinsey were each presented with a beautiful purse by a group of well wishers. These ladies have been cooperative long time members of the unit.

Mrs. William Bauer, chairman, decorated the table with a large lace handmade table cloth, a centerpiece of a lace heart and cupid. Two little red and white elephants on either side. A picture of Abraham Lincoln and one of George Washington were on the wall in the background. All was in keeping with the historic events of the month of February.

The sandwiches and cookies were donated by the executive board. Tea and coffee also were served. Ice cream was furnished by the unit to the classrooms and served by room mothers, with Mrs. J. Doyle in charge.

Those on the committee were: Mrs. Bauer, Mrs. J. Doyle, Mrs. A. Castle, Mrs. M. E. Nofziger, and Mrs. S. Vickers.

small beds at the corner of a lawn, or around some newly planted tree a full planting of solid Viola will look right and proper.

Another suggestion by the California Bedding Plant Advisory Board is for the use of Viola for cutting purposes. Although short stemmed, the flowers will keep quite well and work well for low vases. With the stems snapped off, the heads can be floated in a bowl. Also they can be used for a small informal corsage although there is little fragrance.

The executive board held a meeting Thursday to complete the annual reports for the year.

Wrong Sales Pitch Leads To Trouble

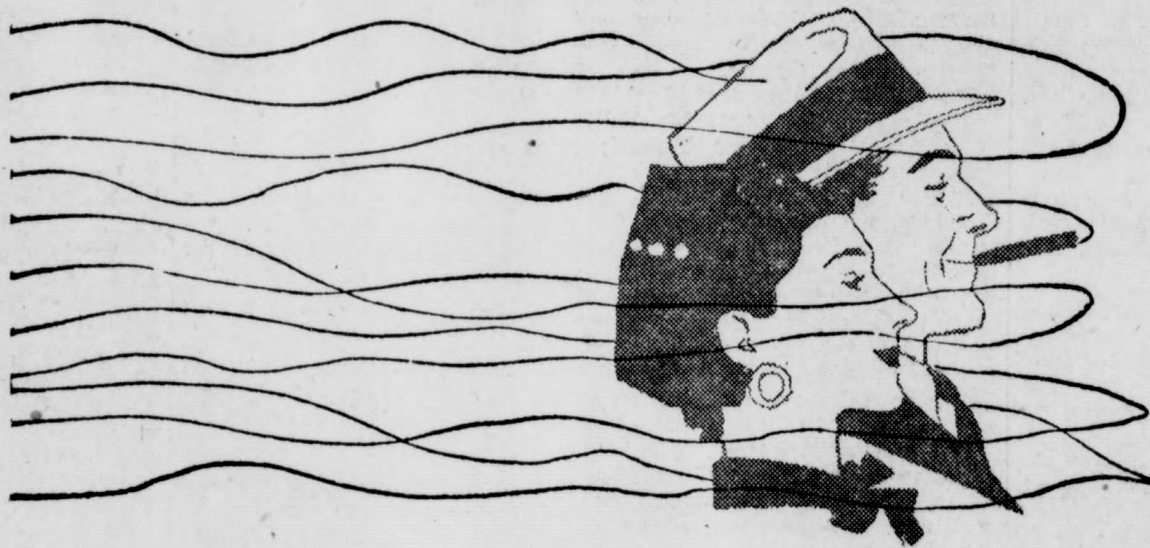

Two over-zealous salesboys were picked up by Daly City police Monday. A Westlake resident told police that two boys were shooting curves in a sales pitch in trying to build the circulation of a metropolitan paper.

The two 14-year-olds were taking turns portraying a deaf-mute for the benefit of prospective customers. They were reprimanded and sent home.

RELISH BAKERY'S Bran Muffins (60c doz.) are every bit as delicious as a piece of cake and certainly much better for you and your children. Hope Church Holds

Special Lent Service

This was the first in a series of six midweek evening devotions to be conducted by the Rev. Louis C. Marting, Pastor of Hope church. Each service will emphasize a phase of the work of Christ in redeeming the world. The complete history of the Passion and Death of Christ from the four Gospels will be read, a portion at each of the services. EMPHASIZE RED CROSS NOT PART UNITED CRUSADE

By Leonore Brewer

Someone once asked us if we ever had any difficulty finding a subject for the column. Actually the reverse is true. The subjects are easy enough to find, the difficulty lies in making up one's mind which to choose.

The early part of last week we thought we might do a piece on the Academy Award nominations. We had it all pretty well worked out in our mind, but didn't get around to putting it on paper. Why hurry, the deadline was a long way away. There was where we went wrong. We never seem to learn that once a subject has been chosen, stick with it. Down the other path lies disaster.

A day or so passed and we felt that the Award nominations were no longer timely and it would be much better if we'd do something on the Cosmopolitan Opera Company, whose second annual spring season is bringing popular opera at popular prices. After changing our minds it was easy to postpone getting the column on paper. We'd wait till we'd heard "Tosca." So, while attending "Tosca" last Friday evening we worked out another fairly good column, built around our favorite character in that opera, Baron Scarpia.

Alas for good intentions. The "Tosca" column never got on paper, and it now seems more to the point to remind you that there are still three operas to be presented. If you have never attended an opera and are dabbling with the thought of experiencing what I've been shouting about for so long, try "La Boheme." Friday, February 25.

So far, no column. Sunday we went to Loe's Warfield. In addition to "Many Rivers to Cross," a buoyant battle-of-the-sexes western fashion, there was the promise of a true sneak preview. We hoped it would be "Oklahoma!" or "Interrupted Melody." It was "The Prodigal," starring Lana Turner and Edmund Purdom.

Since we hope some day to see a little horror called "The Bad Seed," you just can't expect us to work up much enthusiasm for this Biblical tale. If you read and enjoyed the book you'll undoubtedly be impressed by the film, particularly the performances of Walter Hampden as Eli the father, and Joseph Wiseman as the beggar.

Incidentally, M-G-M, just how much censorship trouble do you expect to run into? The scene inside the temple was reminiscent of what we have read Maiden Lane was like before the First World War.

Just a few reminders. Sunday afternoon, February 27, Wilhelm Backhaus will appear for the first time in San Francisco, presenting an all-Beethoven program at the Opera House at 2:30. Last March he returned to this country after an absence of 28 years and his concert at Carnegie Hall was the sensation of the season. His program comprises five Beethoven Sonatas, the most familiar being the "Pathetique."

From the sublime to the ridiculous. There is another pianist (you will pardon the expression) appearing in San Francisco same day, same time, location the Cow Palace. Can you think of a better place for him?

One last word—The second concert in the Vista Grande Community Concert Series is Monday, February 28, held in the Jefferson High school auditorium, at 8:30, at which time the Mauney Twins will present a concert of piano music arranged for two pianos.

Govern, Philip N. Lillenthal Jr., G. O. Smallcomb, Marron Kendrick, W. W. Mein Jr., Robert Stallings and Louis B. Dematteis. It is the expectation of all that the campaign may be brought to a quick and successful conclusion.

Locate Red Cross Tab Stand In Shopping District

Robert Watson, director for the Westlake District, in the "one day" Red Cross membership fund drive on March 5, said today that the tabulating stand for his area would be located in the center of the shopping district.

There will be a master of ceremonies first aid demonstrations at a given time, morning and afternoon, a visit from the two-car Red Cross disaster unit, which includes canteen and first aid equipment to be on display, and music of various kinds. There will also be an eighth-foot thermometer to record the progress of the drive as well as volunteer bank tellers to count and check the money as it is turned in.

Watson also stated that Michael J. Kack, assistant manager Westlake branch, Occidental Life Insurance company, has been named assistant director, Norris Gregory, Daly City Drug, has been named publicity chairman, and residential district 6 has a new chairman, Mrs. Joseph Trapani.

George McQueen, in charge of special events for the whole county, today, "We are planning some extra surprises, to be announced later, but at this date we can assure plenty of activity at each stand."

Kenneth Van Gundy, campaign chairman stated that the director in each community will inform his solicitor as to the procedure for turning in contributions.

Over 500 enthusiastic Lake Merced District Scouters and parents attended the annual Scout Rally held last week under the general chairmanship of Albert Rosenberg in the men's gym of the City College campus.

The entire evening was filled with action and competitive spirit among the eleven Lake Merced Scout troops entered in the rally. Newlon, was judged the winner with a total point score of 948.0. Second place was awarded to Troop 340, under the leadership of Scoutmaster D. C. Bryan, with a total point score of 1094.5.

School Employees Pay $2,151,271.47 In Taxes

School employees of San Mateo county produced over 2 million dollars for Uncle Sam during 1954, according to County Schools Superintendent James R. Torney. Torney's office last week mailed some 13½ pounds of W-2's (6233 withholding tax statement forms) to the Director of Internal Revenue, indicating a total of $2,151,271.47 withheld from the salaries of school employees during 1954. This total compares with $2,035,079.38 last year. Torney estimated that for 1955, total withholdings will exceed 2½ million dollars.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

The party given by the Broadmoor Property Owners Association awhile back was quite a nice affair. Lots of the old Broadmoorites came to reminisce with fellow board members of past years and to meet the newer group now working on community affairs. The Dick DeBerrys, John Golobics, Dale Farnows, George Yorgs, Pat Pateys, Ben Blounts, Claude Hanrahan and Don Hagers talked things over with the Vincent Murphys, Raymond Dustes, Martin Orloffs, Newel Hiltons, Vincent Gaudis, Jim Thomases, Jim McKays, Howard Richardsons, Thynas Jenkinases, Louis Manises and present president Maryann Read.

Coincident of the week: The fact that the Art Abells and the Roscoe Franklins, both originally of the same neighborhood on Nimetz, found themselves near neighbors again down in San Carlos, without either family knowing of the other's new home location! Fran Behlow gathered the rest of the Nimetz group and gave a farewell party for Margaret Franklin and Evelyn Abell...a nice way to say goodbye.

From the odd bits of colored paper draped on wires, trees, roofs and other high places, it would seem that Kite Season is now open. At least there has been some early March wind to get things going. How many yards of snarled string per child per kite will drive how many parents frantic before it's all over?

The Stanley Browns on Village Lane are a busy family these days. Stanley's mother, Mrs. Edgar P. Brown, has been visiting from her home in Seattle. Daughter Barbara was just voted vice president of her Spanish Club down at the College of San Mateo—and younger daughter Carolyn is very busy president of the Latin Club at Jeff High, to say nothing of other club interests. There is a nice new rumpus room being built in the basement, too, in those Spare Moments which every family man tries to corner for a family project. We'd like to say in passing, that we think the color scheme of the Brown house is one of the most attractive in the Villages.

Tom and Anne Jenkins and lots of friends are feeling very happy these days, now that Tom has been made the Democratic nominee for Assemblyman in San Mateo county's 25th District. That's something to be happy about!

Dinner dancing...a very Special Evening—that's something most of us like to enjoy, and when a group of friends gather at a Treasure Island dinner dance to celebrate a 10th anniversary and a birthday, then there is a good time. The Charles Danforths were the anniversary couple, and wife Louise had her birthday the same day, so the Raymond Dustes, Walter Subkes and Frank Dalzelles joined in the celebration—all Washington street friends and neighbors.

Sorry to hear that Old Man Measles is visiting Nancy Swoverland—not a nice guest to have—and Clark and Jay Elliott haven't been quite themselves for a while, but hope they are fine now. Some get well wishes were due young Paul Talbot, too—but he doesn't need them now.

Valentine's Day was of extra importance to the Vincent Murphys—their 13th wedding anniversary! And it was Susan Hazen's birthday, with Jeannie Olson, Jan Macklin, Barbara Bullen, Kathy Pincelli and Sharon Scovel helping blow out 4 candles on her birthday cake.

Speaking of birthdays, Roberta Taylor just had one recently; we'd like to add our wishes for her happiness, too.

Gilman Drive had a Tupperware Party, with Marion Wickham as hostess and Pat McKay as the Tupper representative. On hand were Margie Wiley, Jean Cumberti, Trudy Maloney, Aida Larsen, Ramona Morey, Muriel Carlson, Mary Nagle, Maxine Gerner, Helen Whitehouse, Ruth Mary Warner and Gerrie Reichard.

Double take: Susan Hess, on 87th street, and Susan Ecker, on Larchmont, both had an 8th birthday party on February 12th, and both groups met each other in the Fun House at the Beach. Since most of the guests in both parties knew each other, there was a fine flurry of excitement and gay greetings. Carol Van Hacks, Prudy Rizzo, Janice Behlow, Susan DuPort, Sandy Richardson, Judy Hess, Jimmy Hess, Jeff and Pam Meitz, Irene Engels and Joaquin Andrade were guests of Susan Hess, and Jane Alexander, Jane Miller, Susan Subke, Susan Schmale, Nancy Benner, Judy Fantele and Sylvia Dier were invited to join in Susan Ecker's birthday fun. Three of the latter group won goldfish at one of the game booths!

Shirley Terry's mother, Mrs. Ruth Kaltenborn, came visiting the Terry household on Washington street from San Diego just in time to play nurse. Shirley and daughter Chris both got the flu. Hope that by now everyone's well and a really good visit can be enjoyed all around.

Early to bed and early to rise—and we do mean early! Mark Swoverland and LeRoy Krueger are finding this out now that they are operating their door-to-door fresh produce service during the strike. You have to be at the produce markets downtown at the crack of dawn and before if you want the best, and some of these cold mornings are particularly chilly when it's still dark!

Sorry to hear that Mrs. James English, up on Larchmont, has been hospitalized again. Hope she is back home and feeling on top of the world very soon.

Just to show that the fathers in our town are not left out, Bob Buchanan had a birthday party at his home on Manila drive, with the George McGrails, Vern McGinnesses, Gene O'Briens and John Mitchells helping him enjoy a companionable evening and a Valentine birthday cake.

Peggy and Bill Merchant are now ex-Broadmoorites—almost! Until school is over, they are staying on Werner street in Daly City; after that they will be going down Santa Clara way, to a new home they are building there. Just before Moving Day, Peggy hosted a Stanley party, with Katie Flanagan, Toni Henry, Jean Silvestri, Alyce Bird and Evelyn Toschi as guests.

Helen Richardson had a pre-baby shower given for her by the wives of the elders of the Presbyterian Church, with the gifts personal ones for her, instead of for the baby. Mrs. H. Z. Weibel was the hostess at her home on Louvain drive, with Mmes. John Glasie, Rex Spruiell, James Fairbanks, Ray Logan, George Irvine, Herbert Hopkins, John Rood, David Wholton, Mayo Bryce and Maurice Whitehouse as guests.

Stella Magoon had a morning Stanley party on Valentine's Day, with each guest bringing a Valentine. The prize went to Lisa Moore of Midway. Hilda Stettler, Roberta Taylor, Hazel Eagleton, Bee Zook, Billie Buchanan, Marion Spiry, Rosemary Lamentia, Meredith Orloff, Bea Yates and Agnes Rizzardo were all there to enjoy the coffee and doughnuts served by Stella and her co-hostess, Vi Murphy, and to learn about the products shown by Frances Pricolo, the Stanley demonstrator. Frances used to be a checker at King's Market, and knows nearly all the Broadmoor housewives by sight! What a lot of her party-goers may not know is that she used to be a professional wrestler; billed as "Lady Fran," she spent three and a half years in the ring, back in Texas. Now you know!

Those of you who have seen Cinerama will know what it means to have brought home to you very forcefully an awareness of the United States in terms of its mountains, plains and rivers in all their strength, without being cluttered with an earth-bound view or too many people and buildings to get a good perspective. It is a spectacular and a moving concept of this country and this earth. If you have not seen it yet, you have missed something—above and beyond the scientific marvel of the Cinerama process itself.

Some of the Villagers kind of thought it might be nice to have a get-together of all the ex-service women in this area; there are about ten or so we know of right now. How about it? Anyone interested can call Mary Lichtenberg at PL 5-3174.

CORO STUDENT TAKES B'MOOR ANNEX RESEARCH

Martin Ostrow, graduate of University of California, has been retained by the Coro Foundation to undertake a study of "annexation, incorporation or status quo" for the Broadmoor, Colma, Sterling Park area.

According to the Foundation, Ostrow's research will be done as a public service project, and there will be no cost to the residents involved, with the exception of "out of pocket" expenses.

Ostrow will spend eight weeks on research, doing "field" work and consulting with state, county and Daly City officials on the facets of annexation and incorporation.

He said there would be no recommendations made, but merely a gathering of "all available material" on the subject.

Ostrow has been working with the attorney general's office. He was given a leave of absence to intern with the Coro Foundation, a non-profit research group.

Ostrow spoke briefly before the Broadmoor incorporation study group in a meeting at the Colma firehouse Monday.

The citizens group will probably not meet again until Ostrow's report is completed, according to Tom Noonan, acting chairman.

Mrs. Lillian Klassen Hillside PTA Honoree

Mrs. Lillian Klassen was the recipient of Hillside PTA's honorary life membership at Founders Day observances conducted last week at Colma school.

Mrs. Catherine Mullen, honorary life membership chairman, presented the award and told of Mrs. Klassen's good work.

Mrs. Harry Bosberry, president, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Helen Cheatham, Founders Day chairman, who introduced guests of honor before a near-capacity attendance.

A musical program consisting of a narrator and male quartet, all Colma school teachers, who gave a musical history of PTA since its inception, was presented by William Turgis, vice principal.

The theme was presented in a humorous vein and the audience was invited to join the singing.

Coffee, sandwiches and cookies were served at the close of the meet.

URGE CITIZENS ATTEND MEET OF SCHOOL LEAGUE

James B. Conant, the former president of Harvard University, in commenting on the recent crisis over public schools in Pasadena, pointed out that the whole affair could have been avoided had there been "a continuing citizens committee devoted to the welfare of the public schools."

The Jefferson Elementary School district has such a continuing citizens committee in the form of the League for Better Schools, organized last year.

The Pasadena affair involving the dismissal of the district superintendent of schools commanded nation-wide attention. "While no such crisis exists in our school system it is highly desirable that the citizens committee be strong and informed," said John Eiler, League president.

Delegates to the League and citizens interested in educational problems are urged to attend the meeting of the League to be held in the city hall Wednesday, March 2, at 8 p.m.

In addition to the report by the qualifications committee concerning potential candidates for election to the board of school trustees in May, the meeting will be open for discussion on future activities of the League.

"Never does the League act as a pressure group to work for the election of any particular candidate. Its job is done when a sufficient number of qualified candidates declare their intentions to run for election," Eiler stated.

"The principle business of the League is to work for the betterment of the school. All interested persons can work toward this end by coming to the meeting next Wednesday," he concluded.

Wine Experiment Fails; Too Much For Youngster

One pint of wine proved too much for a 13-year-old Broadmoor youth Friday. He was picked up by police, staggering around on the street. The youth was released in the custody of his parents.

Troop 248 Initiates Scouts Into Group

At the last meeting of Boy Scout Troop 248, six new tenderfoot Scouts were initiated into the group with a "candlelight investiture ceremony." The new Boy Scouts were Phil Ziegler, John Farber, Clark Beerman, David Bosberry, Fernando Rives and James Pinelli. The ceremony was led by Scoutmaster Al Belotz, and was ably assisted by Mel Wilner and Ralph Gumbinger, the assistant Scoutmaster. Senior Patrol Leader Larry Tambor was in charge of the rest of the troop who put on the ceremony.

Two newest junior officers in the troop are Tambor and Troop Scribe Bruce Ladner. These boys received their junior leaders rank at a prior meeting.

Next meeting all the Scouts and leaders will register with the local and National Council for another year of Scouting. The troops' charter is due for renewal in the month of February 1955.

Assistant Scoutmaster Mel Wilner is conducting a special project for the troop in the formation and operation of new patrols. Assistant Scoutmaster Ralph Gumbinger will demonstrate camping techniques to the troop with respect to the first hike planned for March 6.

It was learned through Al Wilson, chairman of the troop committee that the Westlake Improvement association, Troop 248's sponsoring institution, has turned over a financial allotment for the troop's treasury, to Irv Silburstein, the troop committee treasurer. This is an annual donation made by the association, and the money will be used for troop equipment and other activities for all the boys to enjoy.

Plans are being made for the forth coming Scout-O-Rama which Troop 248 and many other troops, packs and explorer posts will participate in. This Scout-O-Rama will be held the last week in April.

Belotz attended a 3 day Scout Leaders Instruction Course given by the local council over across the bay in Camp Lillenthal Feb. 18, 19 & 20. Belotz and many others who attended this course will be putting on training courses in their own districts for the new men joining the ranks of scouting in the future.

Elaborate Scheme Used In Looting Of Ice Cream Store

A well-dressed con man used an elaborate scheme to net only $19.50 last Thursday. Using soft words rather than hard weapons, the self confident robber told an employee at an ice cream dispensary that he was a business acquaintance of the owner.

Daniel Schell, 743 Claridge drive, Westview, told officers that the thief claimed he had installed the refrigeration system at 2159 Junipero Serra boulevard. He told Schell that he had just been involved in an automobile accident, the damages for which were $60. He then asked to borrow $19.50 to pay the remainder of the alleged damages.

"I will call up Jim (owner James Denny) and make sure that it will be all right. I know that Jim is having a rough go and I will have it back tonight," the con man said. He then faked a call to Denny. Telling Schell that Denny had OK'd the loan, he requested a piece of paper to write a receipt. Denny told police that he had not received a telephone call from the man. The con artist was described at between 35-40 years-old, 6'1" and dressed in a dark blue suit and white shirt.

There are some thirty-five million families in the United States that own automobiles, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Name Key Leaders In Lady Of Mercy Fund Raising Drive

Key leaders in the building fund drive of Our Lady of Mercy Parish have been appointed by Robert Carberry, general chairman of the campaign.

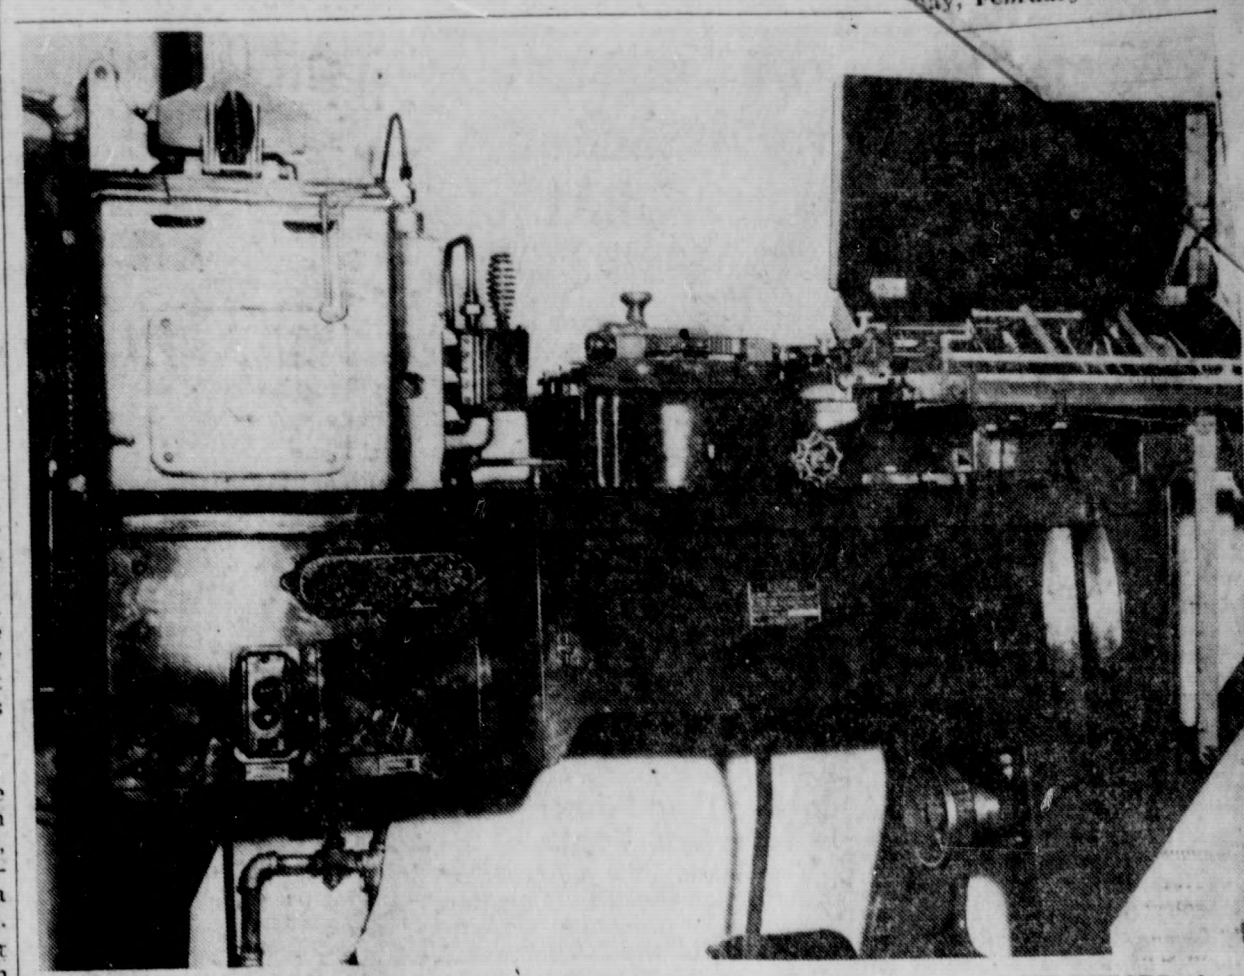

Six executive vice chairmen have been named to head the six divisions. They are: Dave Geofrian, Edward R. O'Donnell, James Murphy, Edward Molkenbuhl Jr. and Larry McDonnell.

A goal of $220,000 has been set by Father Richard W. Power, pastor. An eight-room school is now under construction on Elmwood drive, between South Mayfair and Southgate avenues. Classes will commence in September.

A campaign office has been opened in the Medical-Dental building in Westlake Plaza. A total of 510 workers will be used during the campaign, half of whom have already volunteered and made pledges.

The campaign will be officially launched at a breakfast for the workers on Laetare Sunday, March 20.

Catholic Families Urged To Provide Homes For Tots

"Are you a Catholic family with room in your home for an extra child or two? Could you give this child or children loving care and attention for a temporary period until parents or relatives can again make a home for them? If so, let us introduce a few of these children to you." The Catholic Social Service said this week.

CASE I—I'm Eddie, age ten, and I wish I could be with my little sister, age 8, and my brother, age 3. We're Latin in background and our mother is dead. We kids miss each other a lot. We can't be together unless we can find a foster home. I think you would like us. Everybody says we're pretty easy to get along with.

CASE II—My name is Peggy and I'm thirteen years old. I'm pretty much alone in the world and I would like to have a mother and father to love me and help me learn all the things I need to know before I grow up and start a family of my own. I know I'm pretty shy and awkward at times but I try to be helpful and good natured. I want to go through high school and later take nurse's training.

CASE III—Mike, age ten, wants a home in the country. He's more interested in horses than space ships, but what he really wants is to stay in one place for a while and have loving foster parents to give him the care and attention he needs. Mike has normal intelligence but he's had a lot of trouble keeping up in school because he's been so worried about his parents. Right now his mother and father are

A Message from Lee Bagrash
Your Pharmacist

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO you spent 18.3 cents of your medical care dollar for medicines. Today, despite the fact that some of the newer drugs seem expensive, you are spending only 14.5 cents of your medical care dollar for medicines.

THE REASON OF COURSE IS that your prescriptions are now so much more effective, that you get well much quicker, and they help prevent more serious sickness, and often an operation.

THE COST OF LIVING has advanced considerably for almost everything you buy. But according to government statistics, you are now actually spending less for medicines, for each dollar of your medical care, than you did 15 years ago.

AS YOUR PHARMACIST we will always do our utmost to keep your cost of medicines as low as good pharmaceutical practice will permit.

Vital Need For Proofs Rather Than Power Is Scientists Topic

The vital need for proofs rather than mere professions of Christian power will be stressed in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" to be read at Christian Science services in Sharp Park on Sunday.

Selections from the Bible include the following passage from the Sermon on the Mount (Matthew 5:16): "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify you as Father which is in heaven."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (23:1-5): "Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them."

The Golden Text is from I John (4:9): "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him."

CROCKERITES REPORT

The following are news reports from Crocker school.

Fourth Grade
Miss Hawkins - Rm. 2
Crocker's fourth grade is starting a new study on Modern California. We will study her industries, commerce and importance as a state among states.

This study will take us to such places as Fisherman's wharf, Coit Tower and Golden Gate park in San Francisco. Our class feels this is a particularly good time to study California because of her dominant role in history today.

Fifth Grade
Mrs. Clarke - Rm. 1
We have finished our ceramic hearts which we made as a Valentine gift for our mothers. Each child took a gift home to his mother.

As we have won several cash prizes from our PTA we decided to buy a hobby kit for enameling, complete with an electric kiln. We will make some copper jewelry for our mothers.

We have been stressing penmanship and each one feels he has improved his legibility in handwriting.

CLIPPING CAUSES LONG-HAIRED LAD'S LEAVE-TAKING

Threat of a hair cut caused a 14-year-old Daly City boy to leave home Saturday night. According to police reports, the youth dreaded the thought of having his hair cut short. When last seen he was wearing a red plaid shirt, brown jacket, trousers and shoes.

The flavor of caraway seeds is pleasant and slightly sharp, with a sweet undertone.

(c) No map shall have any force or effect until the same has been approved by the city council and no title in any property described in any offer of dedication shall pass until the recordation of the final map.

SECTION V. GENERAL REGULATION AND DESIGN

5.1 Streets and Highways

5.11 The street and highway design shall conform both in width and alignment to any Master Plan of Streets and Highways approved by the city council, and the right of way for any street or highway indicated on said Master Plan shall be dedicated.

5.12 The street and highway design shall conform to any provision affecting the subdivision, which may have been approved by the city council. If a parcel of land to be subdivided includes a portion of the right of way to be acquired for a public right of way, and the city council shall determine the boundaries of the right of way to be acquired, the subdivider shall either dedicate or withhold from subdivision all the area included in said right of way.

5.13 The following general conditions shall apply to street and highway design:

(a) All streets shall, as far as practicable, be in alignment with existing adjacent streets by continuations of the center lines thereof, or by adjustments by curves.

(b) Streets shall be required to intersect one another at right angles, as far as possible, in each specific case.

(c) Where necessary to give access to or to permit a satisfactory future subdivision of adjoining land, streets shall extend to the boundary of the property to be subdivided, without a turn-around. In all other cases a turn-around having a minimum diameter of seventy (70) feet shall be required.

(d) Intersection Corner Roundings. At all street intersections in first street areas, the property lines of each block corner shall be rounded with a curve having a radius of not less than fifteen (15) feet. Whenever a major street or state highway intersects any other street or highway, the property lines of each block corner shall be rounded with a curve having a radius of not less than twenty (20) feet. In either case, a greater curve radius may be required if streets intersect other than at right angles.

(e) Curve Radius. The center line curve radius of all streets and highways shall conform to accepted engineering standards of design and shall be subject to approval by the city engineer.

(f) Grades of Streets and Highways. No street or highway shall have a grade of more than twelve per cent (12%) unless, because of topographical conditions or other exceptional conditions, the city engineer determines that a grade in excess of twelve per cent (12%) is necessary.

(g) Reserved strips controlling the access to public streets or highways shall not be approved, unless such strips are necessary for the protection of the public welfare or of substantial property rights, or both, and in no case, unless the control and disposal of the land comprising such strips is placed definitely within the jurisdiction of the city under the conditions approved by the city council.

5.14 Streets and highways not shown on any Master Street and Highway Plan or not affected by proceedings approved by the city council shall be of less width than those set forth hereunder except where it can be shown by the subdivider, to the satisfaction of the Planning Commission, that the topography or the small number of lots served and the probable future traffic developments are such as to unquestionably justify a narrower width. Increased widths may be required where streets are to serve commercial property or where probable traffic conditions warrant such. Approval or termination of street or highway classification shall be made by the City Council.

(a) In major streets or highways, the minimum right of way width shall be seventy (70) feet in commercial areas and sixty (60) feet in residential areas. Pavement shall have a width of at least forty (40) feet, curb face to curb face.

(b) In secondary streets or highways, the minimum right of way width shall be fifty (50) feet. A width up to seventy (70) feet may be required where a street may become a major street at some future date. Pavement shall have a minimum width of thirty-two (32) feet, curb face to curb face.

(c) Cul-de-sac streets, when not over two hundred (200) feet in length shall have a minimum right of way width of forty (40) feet. The diameter of a cul-de-sac shall be at least seventy (70) feet.

(d) Service roads shall have a minimum right of way width of forty (40) feet. Pavement shall have a minimum width of thirty (30) feet, curb face to curb face.

(e) Where there are two level streets, the minimum right of way width shall be sixty (60) feet, which may be varied according to grade. In cases of two sections of pavement, each section shall have a minimum width of eighteen (18) feet, curb face to curb face.

(f) Alleys shall have a minimum right of way width of twenty-five (25) feet.

5.15 Street Names. All street names shall be as approved by the Planning Commission.

5.16 Acre or Large Lot Subdivisions. Where a parcel is subdivided into lots of one acre or more, the Planning Commission may require that the blocks shall be of such size and shape, and be so divided into lots, as to provide for the extension and opening of streets and alleys at such intervals as will permit a subsequent division of any parcel into lots of normal size.

5.17 The length of the block not to exceed 1320 feet.

5.2 Easements

5.21 The subdivider shall grant easements as required for public utility, sanitary sewer, drainage purposes on rear lot lines, along side lot lines, and in planting strips.

5.22 Easements for overhead wire lines shall be provided at the rear of all lots, except where alleys are available, and in contiguous locations to permit anchorage, line continuity, ingress and egress.

5.23 Dedication of easements shall be to the public and/or the city for the purpose of installing utilities, planting strips, and for such other public purposes as may be ordered or directed by the City Council.

5.3 Lots

5.31 The size and shape of lots shall be in conformity with any zoning regulations effective in the area of the proposed subdivision and not be less than two thousand five hundred sixty (2560) square feet in area, and not less than 32 (32) feet lot frontage at the building line. The Planning Commission may recommend the granting of exceptions to this provision, where lots are to be used for commercial or industrial purposes or where there are unusual topographical conditions, curved or cul-de-sac streets or other special conditions.

5.32 The side lines of all lots, so far as possible, shall be at right angles to the street which the lots face, or radial or approximately radial if the street is curved.

5.33 Divided lots. No lot shall be divided by a city boundary line.

5.34 Lot numbers. Lot numbers shall begin with the number one (1) in each block and shall continue consecutively throughout each block of the subdivision with no duplications.

5.35 Lots without frontage on a street will not be permitted.

5.36 Lots, other than corner lots, may front on more than one street where necessitated by topographical or other unusual conditions. The width of each block shall be sufficient for an ultimate layout of two tiers of lots therein of a size required by the provisions of this ordinance, unless the general layout in the vicinity, lines of ownership, topographical conditions or location of major or minor highways justify or make necessary variation from this requirement.

5.4 Water Courses

5.41 The subdivider shall, subject to riparian rights, dedicate a right of way for storm drainage purposes, conforming to the provisions of this ordinance, for any natural water course or channel, stream, or creek that traverses the subdivision, or, at his option he shall provide by dedication other and sufficient easements or construction, or both, to dispose of such surface water.

5.42 Subject to Inundation

5.51 If any portion of any land, within the boundaries shown on any final map, is subject to overflow, inundation or flood hazard by storm waters, such fact and said portion shall be clearly shown on such map, and shall be in a border on each sheet of said map.

5.6 Master Plan

5.61 In all respects, the subdivision will be considered in relation to the Master Plan of the city, or any part thereof, or preliminary plans made in anticipation thereof.

5.7 Deed Restrictions

5.71 A copy of the deed restrictions applicable to the subdivision shall be filed with the city clerk at the time of filing final map.

5.8 Standards and Improvements

6.1 All improvements herein after mentioned shall conform to those required in the standard subdivision improvement specifications, which may be adopted by the City Council, and may be in effect when the tentative map is filed with the Planning Commission.

6.12 The following regulations shall apply to improvements in any street, public highway or public way in the City of Daly City, or the improvement of any parcel of land intended to be offered for dedication to said city as a public street, highway, or public way.

(a) All such work shall be done under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the city engineer and shall be subject to such inspection as he may deem necessary to protect the best interests of the city.

(b) No improvements will be accepted by the city, nor will any public street, highway or public way offered by dedication be accepted by the city until such time as the work done thereon has been approved by the city engineer.

(c) All underground utilities, sanitary sewers, and storm drains installed in streets, service roads, alleys, or highways shall be constructed prior to the surfacing of such street, service roads, alleys, or highways. Service connections for all underground utilities and for all sewers shall be laid to such lengths as will obviate the necessity for disturbing the street or alley improvements, when service connections thereto are made.

(d) Exceptions to this provision may be made where it is neither feasible nor desirable to install such facilities prior to the surfacing of said streets, service roads, alleys, or highways.

6.2 General Requirements—Subdividers Obligations

6.21 Streets and Highways. All streets and highways shall be graded and paved to cross sections and grades approved by the city engineer. The subdivider shall improve the extension of all subdivision streets, highways, or public ways to the intersecting paving line of any county road, city street, or state highway.

6.22 Structures. Structures shall be installed, as deemed necessary by the city engineer, for drainage, access, and public safety. Such structures shall be placed to grades and shall be of a design approved by the city engineer.

6.23 Curb and Gutters. Curb and gutters shall be installed to grades, cross section, layout and location approved by the city engineer.

6.24 Sidewalks. Sidewalks shall be installed to grades, location, width, and cross-section approved by the city engineer, provided that exception to this provision may be granted where topographical conditions make the installation of sidewalks impractical.

6.25 Sewers. Sanitary sewer facilities connecting with the existing city or county sewer system shall be installed to serve each lot and to grades, location, design and approved by the North San Mateo County Sanitation District and the city engineer. No septic tanks and cesspools will be permitted. Storm water sewers shall be installed as required by the city engineer.

6.26 Water. Design, layout, and location of water mains and fire hydrants connecting to the water system operated by the City of Daly City shall be as approved by the city engineer and chief of the fire department.

6.27 Street Lighting and Street Signs. Street lighting may be required by the Planning Commission and the design and locations shall be approved by the city engineer. Street signs shall be of a design and location approved by the superintendent of streets.

6.28 Railroad Crossings. Provision shall be made for any and all railroad crossings necessary to provide access to, or transportation within, the proposed subdivision, including the preparation of all documents necessary for application to the California State Public Utilities Commission for the establishment and improvement of such crossings.

6.29 Fire Alarm. Design, layout, and location of Fire Alarm boxes connecting to the Daly City fire alarm system shall be installed by the subdivider at his expense, and approved by the city engineer and the Chief of the Fire Department. For each

That's My Point

By Monte Dayton

If the vast army of active American coaches was suddenly wiped out overnight, we'd be willing to bet there'd be enough administrators, executives and various other men in high places to drop their duties and fill the ranks.

Everywhere in public life can be found tycoons, school superintendents, politicians, even ministers, who at one time excelled in the sports world, both in participation and coaching.

Daly City officialdom can boast its share of these erstwhile men of note on the sports scene.

Among them is Harry Aronson, business manager for the Jefferson Elementary School district.

Harry left the world of linament, long bus rides and eligibility worries just three years ago, this month, to take over a position that makes a coach's job look easy.

In fact, the reason the strapping six-footer was available for the school manager job was due directly to a position he had taken in recreation here.

HE HAD A DUAL CAPACITY

Aronson was hired in August, 1951, as "coordinator of recreation." He had a dual capacity: He acted as superintendent of Daly City recreation and coordinated rec activities for the school district's intra-mural program.

After one year as a "split personality" in recreation, Aronson was hired to fill the business manager position for the school district.

If you wonder how a coach could possibly be qualified for managing a million-year business, take a look at his "accomplishment sheet" of the 39-year-old educator:

Aronson was graduated from Commerce High school in San Francisco where he captained the football, basketball and track team in 1934. He also won a position on the All-City football and basketball teams in 1933-34.

Upon graduation, Aronson took up higher education at St. Mary's, hoping eventually to enter coaching.

On the sports side, Aronson, a halfback and fullback, won three letters in football, was awarded the outstanding player trophy in the Fordham-St. Mary's game in 1938 and also participated in the 1939 Cotton Bowl classic in which St. Mary's defeated Texas Tech. Norman "Red" Strader, now SF 49er head man, was his coach.

On the "heavier" side of a coach's college pursuits, Aronson was awarded a B.A. degree in arts and letters, carrying an awesome major of history.

ADDS MORE ACADEMIC LAURELS

In 1940 Aronson gained his general secondary credentials, with a social science and education major, physical education minor.

From there Harry hit the trail for Oakdale Union High school, where he served three years, teaching general math, jr. business training, life science and physical education, acted as advisor of a boys club, and in his spare time coached football, art, basketball, baseball, and won three championships, eventually becoming director of athletics, and as an extra-curricular activity instructed Red Cross classes in the evening school.

His tenure at Oakdale was interrupted by a 40-month stint in the Air Force, where he started as civilian physical training instructor, wound up as a Captain.

From 1947-50 he was head basketball and track coach at Placer college, and his team never finished much worse than second in league competition.

His 1949-50 cage club won the Modesto Jaycee Invitational and also picked up the championship in the Northern Junior College Conference.

BACK TO THE BOOKS AGAIN

In 1950 he still found enough time to gain knowledge while teaching boys how to flip a 12-pound shot put and pull off an effective screen in basketball. He attended Sacramento State college, doing more graduate study in education.

Aronson has life diplomas for general secondary and general elementary teaching. If he doesn't like business, he can go into teaching and if he doesn't like that, he can always find a job as coach.

He's still burrowing in wisdom, working on his master's degree in elementary administration at SF State.

Harry says he doesn't really miss coaching, although he finds some parallel in the two professions. "Now, instead of worrying about an athlete's torn ligaments before a crucial game, I might have to hustle to find a replacement for a bus driver who's sick."

As fiscal manager of the district, Aronson's duties also include supervision of all employees in his department.

DUTIES IN MANUSCRIPT FORM

To say this previous paragraph outlined his responsibilities would be the rankest understatement. Duties of a business manager are delineated in a 15-page, single spaced manuscript.

About the only thing Harry has to do with sports now is a somewhat inactive capacity as official for the Amateur Athletic Union, an appointment he received two weeks ago.

The business manager, his wife and three children live at 330 San Mateo avenue.

If Harry has anything to do with it, his youngsters should have a well-rounded background.

The day of the coach personality who read with his lips and thought manual labor was a Mexican immigrant is over. Harry is a good example of the new breed.

Jeff Pair Bolster Mateo Diamond Nine

With fine baseball material in sight, College of San Mateo Coach Herb Hudson is grooming his nine from a squad that includes the best players to enroll at the college in a number of years. This list has Arnie Brooks, pitcher and third baseman; Dave Carelli, outfielder; Ted Leicher, outfielder; all from South San Francisco; and Dan Bertelli, pitcher; and Leo Villar, second baseman, both from Jefferson High in Daly City as likely prospects. Also, there are five players from Sequoia Union High, a number from San Mateo and Burlingame, several from across the bay, and more from other parts of the state.

Dr. Alfred Fisk of the San Francisco State College faculty will lecture and show color pictures of Eastern Mediterranean lands Monday evening at College of San Mateo. The program will start at 7:30 in the Baldwin campus auditorium and is free.

BROADMOOR YOUTH GROUP PROMISES FINE BOXING SHOW

"The finest exhibition of boxing by youths of the Broadmoor-Colma area" is the description of the forthcoming boxing show planned by the Broadmoor Youth association, according to President Bob Goodwin and boxing coach "Bud" Christman.

Local talent exclusively will be utilized in this event, the oldest participant being 13 years old and the youngest just out of diapers, Goodwin said.

An exhibition of bag punching by Sam Slavich, West Coast punching bag champion will also be a feature of the show, Christman added. Training camp has already been underway, and the forthcoming bouts promise an evening of fun, the president said.

Robinson scored with a No. 5 iron. He has three witnesses to prove it: Don Mayer, Don Mehan, and Hal Caldren.

Allain hit 13 field goals, mainly tip-ins, and 14 free throws.

'TROTTERS' THREATEN COLMA IN REC LEAGUE

Westlake, Globetrotters continued to breathe down the neck of the Daly City Recreation Basketball league leaders, Colma Rebels, as they put on a phenomenal shooting exhibition at the community center Saturday to defeat OLPH, 47-13.

The win gave Westlake a 5-2 mark and tie for second place with Sharp Park. Colma Rebels, drawing a bye Saturday, maintain leadership with a 6-1 record.

Creighton Sparkles In Opener

Lowell Creighton, who gained fame last month by teaming up with Don Mossi for a non-hitter, pitched Jefferson High to a victory over Lincoln of San Francisco Friday in the Daly City club's 1955 baseball unveiling.

Creighton, apparently just taking it easy, struck out nine batters, walked only one and gave up half-a-dozen hits as the Indians won, 7-2.

It was first time on the mound for Creighton since he and Mossi divided up a no-hitter January 24 but the stylish right-hander gave notice that Peninsula Athletic league teams better have their hitting shoes on when they meet him.

Vuillmainroy Homers
Jeff tallied three runs in the second inning when Ray Vuillmainroy banged a homer with two aboard.

In the fifth Bob Gaggero batted in a pair of runs with a triple and scored himself on a single by Creighton. The Indians picked up another tally in the last frame on a single by Bob Grubb.

Jeff picked up a total of 10 hits. Short stop Ken Smith got two for four and John Murphy, catcher, batted out two for three.

Wednesday at Big Rec St. Ignatius stopped the Indians one-game win streak, 12-4, as Coach Lou Martin substituted liberally to test his hitting and pitching power.

Tex Prentice chucked four innings for Jeff, giving up three hits, walking three and allowing the same number of runs. A wild flury forced Martin to relieve him with untried Wayne Lee, a southpaw. Lee was clobbered for six hits and eight runs in two innings: Vuillmainroy then took over, holding SI in check with two hits and a single run.

Tied Up
St. Ignatius took an early 2-0 lead but Jeff tied it in the fourth after Bob Bailey singled, Grubb reached base on an error and Prentice singled.

In the sixth the Daly City club took a 4-3 advantage as Rich Guisti singled and Grubb doubled. Smith whacked another one-bagger to bring in Grubb.

After that Jeff was unable to tally, while St. Ignatius was banging out all the Indian offerings.

The local club got seven hits and registered two errors. St. Ignatius misused only once and gained 11 safeties.

Freshman Ace
Highlight of the game was play of 15-year-old Jeff freshman Ino Patron, who started two double plays and a force out.

The Indians take to the diamond today (Friday) against Lincoln again at the latter's park, starting at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday the locals meet Mission here in another afternoon contest and follow up Friday with a day-time game against Balboa at the Bucs diamond.

The Daly City nine open league play March 18 against Burlingame.

Award Bleacher Bid To Beatty Co.

Daly City's community center will soon be able to seat 500 persons.

The city council Monday night awarded bid to Beatty, Safeway Scaffold Co. for supplying movable bleachers. Beatty's figure of $4686.95 was low of three submitted. Beatty's bid was more than $300 below the city's estimated cost for the seats.

Bleachers will be stored against the community center wall when not in use.

Garcia Gets 3

Pete Garcia netted three field goals in the initial quarter's scoring outburst, while Steve Oppermann and Bill Kett each got a pair.

The Westlakers continued to move in the second stanza, and held a 24-8 margin at half time.

Paced by Ross Holmgren's second half output of 12 points, the Trotters continued to humble the "Phers" in the last half. Holmgren topped scoring with 14, followed by Garcia, 12, and Oppermann, 11.

Garcia's backboard work was held a big factor in the lop-sided victory. Westlake had an astonishing 82 per cent shooting average from the floor.

Sharp Park kept pace with Westlake in the other "A" division game, easily disposing of Brisbane, 38-27, after gunning in 16 points in the first period. The Coaststars held a 22-11 half-time advantage.

Both clubs matched buckets in the second half.

Dave Simmons was Sharp Park's top point-maker with 14. Brisbane's league leading scorer John Galton increased his total output to 102 points by getting 13 Saturday.

Galton leads the league's second high scorer by 28 points. Highlight of the "B" division play, although the outcome was never in doubt, was the OLPH-Brisbane tilt which OLPH won, 29-14.

Brisbane's Bobby With, who has led division scoring all season, and Billy Whalen of OLPH, runner-up in the scoring department prior to last week, battled it out for supremacy in the point department.

Whalen, plunking in 21 points on ten field goals and a free throw, wrested the leadership from With, who could put through only nine markers. Whalen now has 97 points, against 91 for With.

OLPH currently needs the "B" circuit with eight wins, one loss. Holy Angels continued to threaten OLPH by winning their seventh win in nine starts Saturday, downing Broadmoor Cards, 20-12.

At half-time it was close, 9-8, but Holy Angels tightened their defense in the last two periods to hold the Cards to two field goals, while meshing five field goals and a free throw for their own cause.

Scoring honors went to Tom McHugh of Holy Angels with seven, Ron LaBue hit six while Webb Parker, George Muller and Jim Heickhad four each for the losers.

Royals Win One
Broadmoor Royals gained their second victory in nine outings Saturday by nipping Sharp Park, 13-11. The lead alternately changed hands through the contest. It was deadlocked, 9-9, at end of the third quarter. Applying back court pressure in the fourth quarter, Broadmoor held the SP five to a lone field goal while picking up two for themselves.

Jeff League Finale Tonight Against Rival SSF Quints

VARSITY EDGES SCOTS; WHACKED BY MATEANS

With neither team having anything but their honor at stake, Jefferson High school's varsity and lightweight basketball teams tangle with South San Francisco tonight (Friday) in the traditional big game and league finale, starting at 7:30 p.m. on the Warrior pavilion.

In first round play, the Indians scored a twin killing over their "hated" South City foes, the varsity winning, 53-48, while the 30s pulled out a 44-32 victory. Local varsity will bring a 5-6 record into tonight's contest, while the 30s have a 7-4 mark.

Wednesday the Jeff varsity avenged an earlier defeat by outracing Carlmont, 63-56, in a home game. The Daly City club fell behind, 38-33, at halftime but displayed an impenetrable defense in the last two quarters, holding the Scots to five field goals and eight charities. Jeff, with Al Figue getting 13 and Wes Yates and Al Lagomarsino six apiece, drove to 30 points in the last two stanzas.

Control Boards
Yates monopolized the backboards in the last half to avert any Scot scoring threats.

Figue had 10 points in the first half and 13 in the second, mostly on set shots, giving him high point honors with 23. Yates hit 19.

The Indian lightweights nipped Carlmont, 33-31, letting down in the second half after holding an 18-11 mark at the 16-minute half-way mark.

The Scots outscored Jeff in both of the last quarters but couldn't overcome the lead built up at half-time.

Rich Gonzales paced the little Indians with nine, while Larry Kennedy, Bill Curtis and Larry Pottenger had eight apiece.

Friday night's twin bill at the Daly City pavilion saw Jeff humbled, 63-48, by a towering San Mateo five.

It was the Bearcats all the way, as they held a 29-25 half-time lead and continued to increase their advantage throughout the game.

Diminutive forwards Lagomarsino and Anguillo were unable to get away their favorite shots as the lanky Mateans displayed a closely-knit defense around the bucket.

Figue wound up as Jeff high man with nine markers. Pacing the Bearcats was Bucky Kahler, 19, followed by Bob Mats, 18.

Second Half Drive
The Indian 30s came out of the doldrums in the second half to larrup the Mateans, 52-45.

Trailing, 23-16, at the mid-way mark, Jefferson caught fire in the third quarter, swishing 15, and accelerating in the final period for a 21-point rally.

Larry Pottenger, Jeff Sophomore who only got two points in the first two periods, played like a wild man in the final half, tanking nine each in the third and fourth sessions and winding up with a healthy 20 points for the evening, his best effort all season.

Gonzales, the Indian 30s stand-out player, was barred from action by Coach Mike Orlich for missing two straight practices. Steve Canty rode the bench for the same reason.

The loss sent San Mateo's title hopes a-flying. Jeff, with a victory tonight, would emerge in second place.
